O. C. ALBERTSON

FOR building up the high school to its present position—

For bringing in outside contacts which have meant much to student life—

For consistent endeavor to foster the best types of student activity—

For willingness at all times to give his personal attention to any problem—

For all these things we, the student body, feel greatly indebted and wish to express our sincere appreciation to MR. O. C. ALBERTSON, our principal.

R. P. SIMPSON

"THEY set the slave free, striking off his chains—
Then he was as much of a slave as ever.
He was still chained to servility,
He was still manacled to indolence and sloth,
He was still bound by fear and superstition,
By ignorance, suspicion and savagery—
His slavery was not in his chains,
But in himself—
They can only set free men free;
And there is no need of that.
Free men set themselves free."

Our Departments

The science department, under the able supervision of Mr. Cleveland, has completed a very successful year. This department includes classes in general science, biology, chemistry, and physics. The following teachers make up the personnel of the department: Mr. Cleveland, Mrs. Aborn, Miss Rogers, Mr. Jordan, Mr. Swartling, Miss Frances King, Mrs. Whalen, and Miss Gebhardt.

Whittier High School campus is being surveyed! This task is being undertaken by the trigonometry classes of the mathematics department. Many interesting as well as useful things have been learned this year in the mathematics department, under the following teachers: Mrs. Jones, Mr. Phelps, Mr. Blosser, Mr. Hunt, Miss Drake, Mr. Dunsworth, Miss Lillian Wolin, Miss Wood, and Mr. Hanson.

The English department has been very busy this year. Besides their regular work, the classes have participated in several composition contests, in which they won prizes, and many English students have taken part in the local oratorical contest. The teachers of this department are Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Bewley, Miss Hillix, Mrs. Holt, Miss Hoskins, Miss Shepherd, Mrs. Carter, Miss Ethel King, Mr. Terrell, Mrs. Counsell, Miss Wallace, Miss Fink and Miss Miller.

Our history department is made up of classes in world history, modern and medieval history, United States history and civics, and economics. The history department has access to a large variety of books which are of great advantage to the students. The history teachers include Mrs. Brannon, Miss Steiner, Mrs. Lavin, Mr. Roberts, Mr. Bristol, and Miss Shepherd.

The foreign language department includes classes in Spanish, French, and Latin. An unusual project of the department this year was the presentation by the Latin classes of the play, "Dido and Aeneas," in honor of Virgil's two-thousandth anniversary. The foreign language teachers include Miss George, Mrs. Bewley, Mrs. Holt, Miss Bradshaw, Mrs. Carr, Miss Steck, Mr. Chapman, Miss King, Miss Freeland, Miss Wicklund, and Miss Wolin.

The dramatics department has been even more active than usual this year. Besides the annual plays and the Dramatic Club programs, the department has presented an Easter pageant, a one-act play as a benefit for the Cardinal and White newspaper, and has given the Shakespearean play to the P-T.A. as a benefit. The dramatics instructors are Miss Frankenfield, Mrs. Grassell, and Miss Miller.

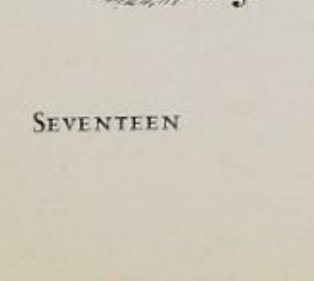
The art department, under the able supervision of Miss Marks, consists of classes in first and second year art. This year, as always, the art department has cooperated with all the other departments by making posters for the school plays, helping with the Girls' League etiquette book, doing work on the annual, making the programs for the Junior-Senior banquet and doing many other useful things.

During 1930, the music department has greatly expanded. The instrumental section includes three full orchestras besides a large number of smaller groups. The vocal section consists of several small groups and the glee clubs. The instrumental music is under the direction of Mr. and Miss Macdonald; the vocal is under the direction of Mr. Petty.

With the completion of the new wing of the administration building, the commercial department has been able to cover a wider field than ever before. It now has a very extensive course to offer to the student of business. The teachers in this department are Miss O'Farrell, Mr. Wegner, Miss McKeen, Miss Lowstetter, Mr. Weiss, and Mrs. Moss.

The domestic economy department includes classes in both cooking and sewing. The cooking classes are taught by Miss Della King, and the sewing by Miss Jay. The High School Cafeteria, which has formerly been a privately operated plant, is under high school management this year, and is under the charge of Miss Kahle.

This year, our first in the Foothill League, has been a very successful year for the physical education department, with the Class "B" football team, and both the Class "B" and "C" basketball teams winning championships. The girls' physical education department has also had a very successful year. The physical education instructors are Miss Romani, Miss Jones, Mrs. Tomlinson, Miss Nelson, Mr. Blosser, Mr. Cole, Mr. Douglas, and Mr. Whitcomb.



Our shop department is very adequate, both in equipment and in teachers. The department has three divisions: wood shop, machine shop, and auto shop, with a special instructor for each one. Mr. Benton has charge of the wood shop, Mr. Reamy has the machine shop, and Mr. Irwin, the auto shop.

In Memoriam

MISS IDA HEISE

Who for the past twelve years has served faithfully as a teacher of mathematics at Whittier Union High School, and who by her willingness to give her personal attention wherever needed, and by her kindness and friendliness found a place in the hearts of all who knew her.

Student Body Officers

Dear Abdullah:—I would like to recommend to you Whittier Union High as an ideal school. Here we have spirit, scholarship, and friendliness.

Our spirit has been shown in the animated group of students who have been present at all the games. We have always stood high in scholarship and are continuing to maintain our good standing this year. Friendliness has been apparent in the cordial manner in which new students have been received and even given offices.

Cooperation, which is so essential, has been splendid this year, and I certainly have appreciated it.

To the faculty and student body I wish to express my appreciation for their enjoyable guidance this year, and I wish them many more successful years in the future.

I remain, Your faithful servant, BOB LOGUE.

Dear Abdullah:—In your recent letter, you mentioned this fact, that if an organization is to be successful financially, it must have the undivided cooperation of its members.

It is needless to say that this statement is absolutely true, and I can add that the Whittier Union High School Student Body is an organization which has been successful financially, due to the whole-hearted cooperation of its members. The student body's support of the athletic contests, the benefit plays, the annual drive, and other activities, has been gratifying.

Remember this fact as you are choosing the employees for your new enterprise for I am sure that any person who comes from a school in which such a spirit of cooperation exists, is a person well fitted to fill any of the positions you have in mind.

May Allah bless you. Your friend, R. NIXON.

Executive Committee

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Whittier Union High School was organized in 1925 for the purpose of transacting all business which does not need to come before the student body as a whole. It passes on all bills to be paid from the student body fund, discusses all proposed amendments to the constitution, and appoints the student manager of athletics. Thus it insures a closer supervision of all business matters pertaining to the student body and also saves much time in the regular meetings.

The faculty members on this committee are Mr. Earl Chapman, Miss Laura Frankenfield, Miss Hope Romani, Mr. Donald Douglas, and Mr. W. A. Phelps. Representatives from the student body are Robert Logue, Ralph Garman, Dorothy Petty, Malcolm Tuft, Robert Williams, Robert Cole, Hope Lewis, George Buehler, and Albert Woodward.

The Finance Committee is closely connected with the Executive Committee, and is appointed from it to care for all financial affairs. The members of the Committee have worked very hard and deserve all possible credit. They check on all bills coming before the student body and refer them to the Executive Committee for order of payment. In this way an accurate account can be kept of all financial affairs. The committee is composed of Miss Hope Romani, and Mr. Donald Douglas, faculty members, and Robert Logue, George Buehler, and Albert Woodward, student body representatives.

CLASSES

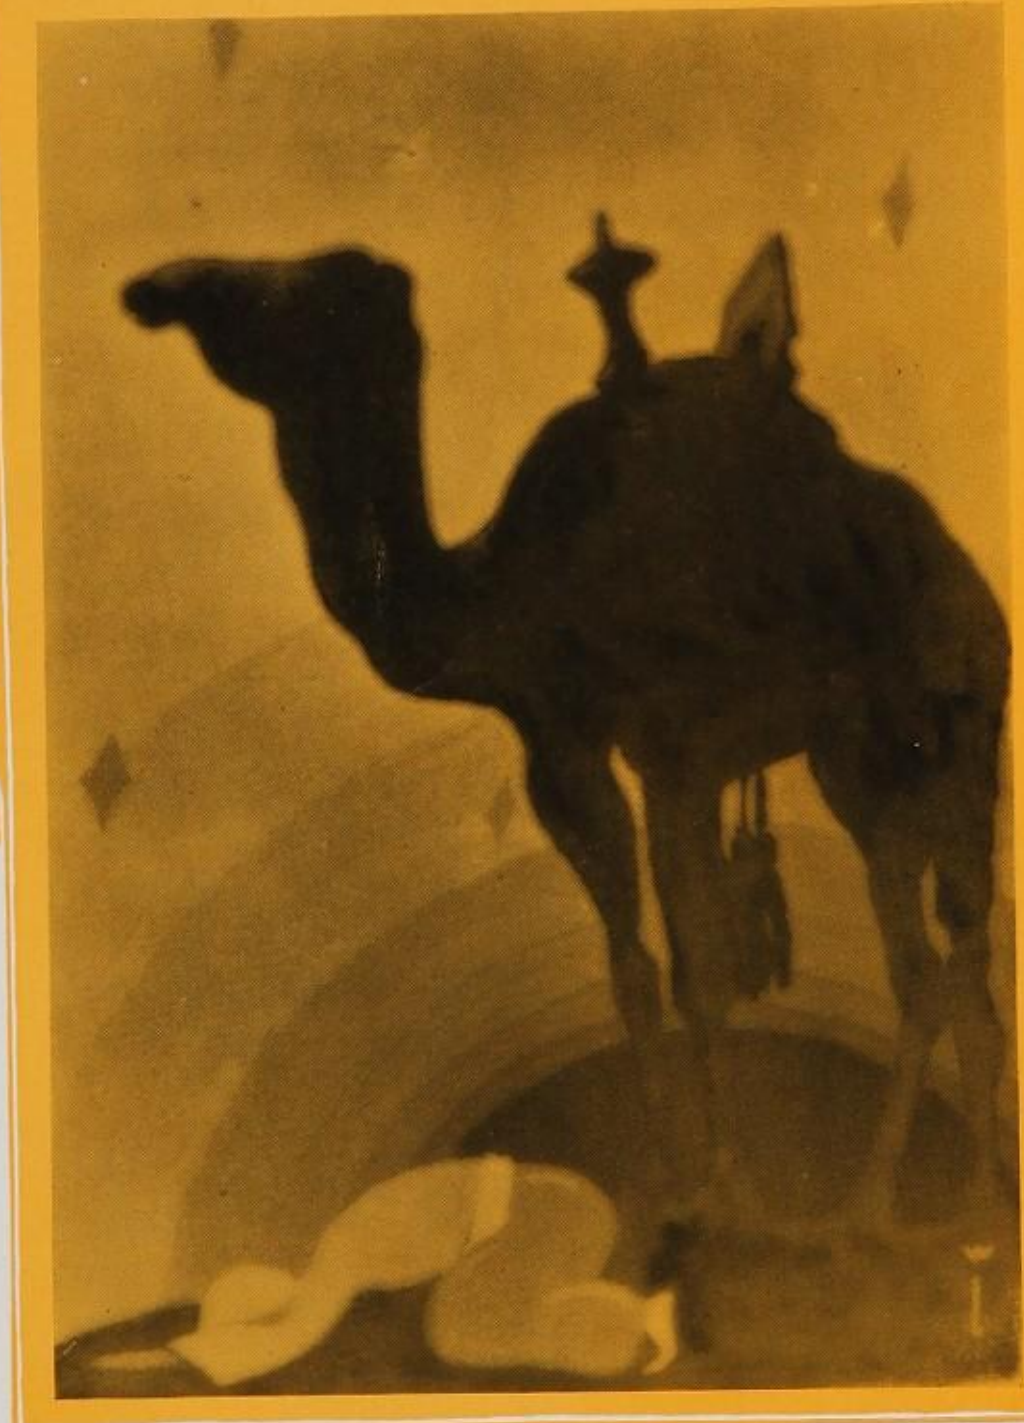
Abdullah says:

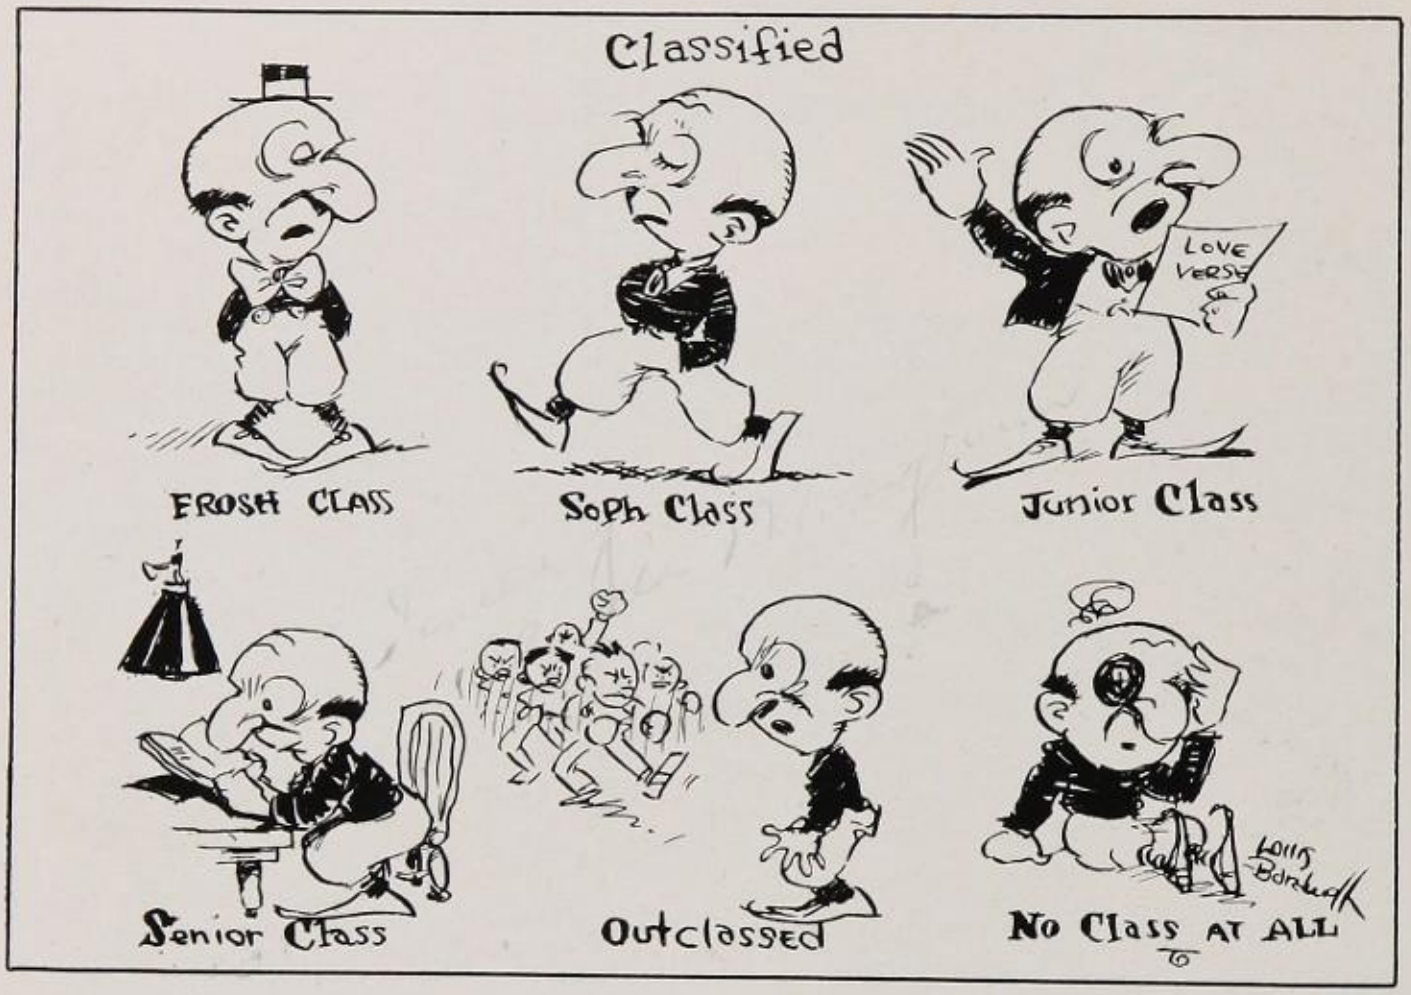
"He who knows not and knows not that he knows not is a Freshman. Instruct him.

He who knows not and knows that he knows not is a Sophomore. Ignore him.

He who knows and knows not that he knows is a Junior. Waken him.

He who knows and knows that he knows is a Senior. Heed him."





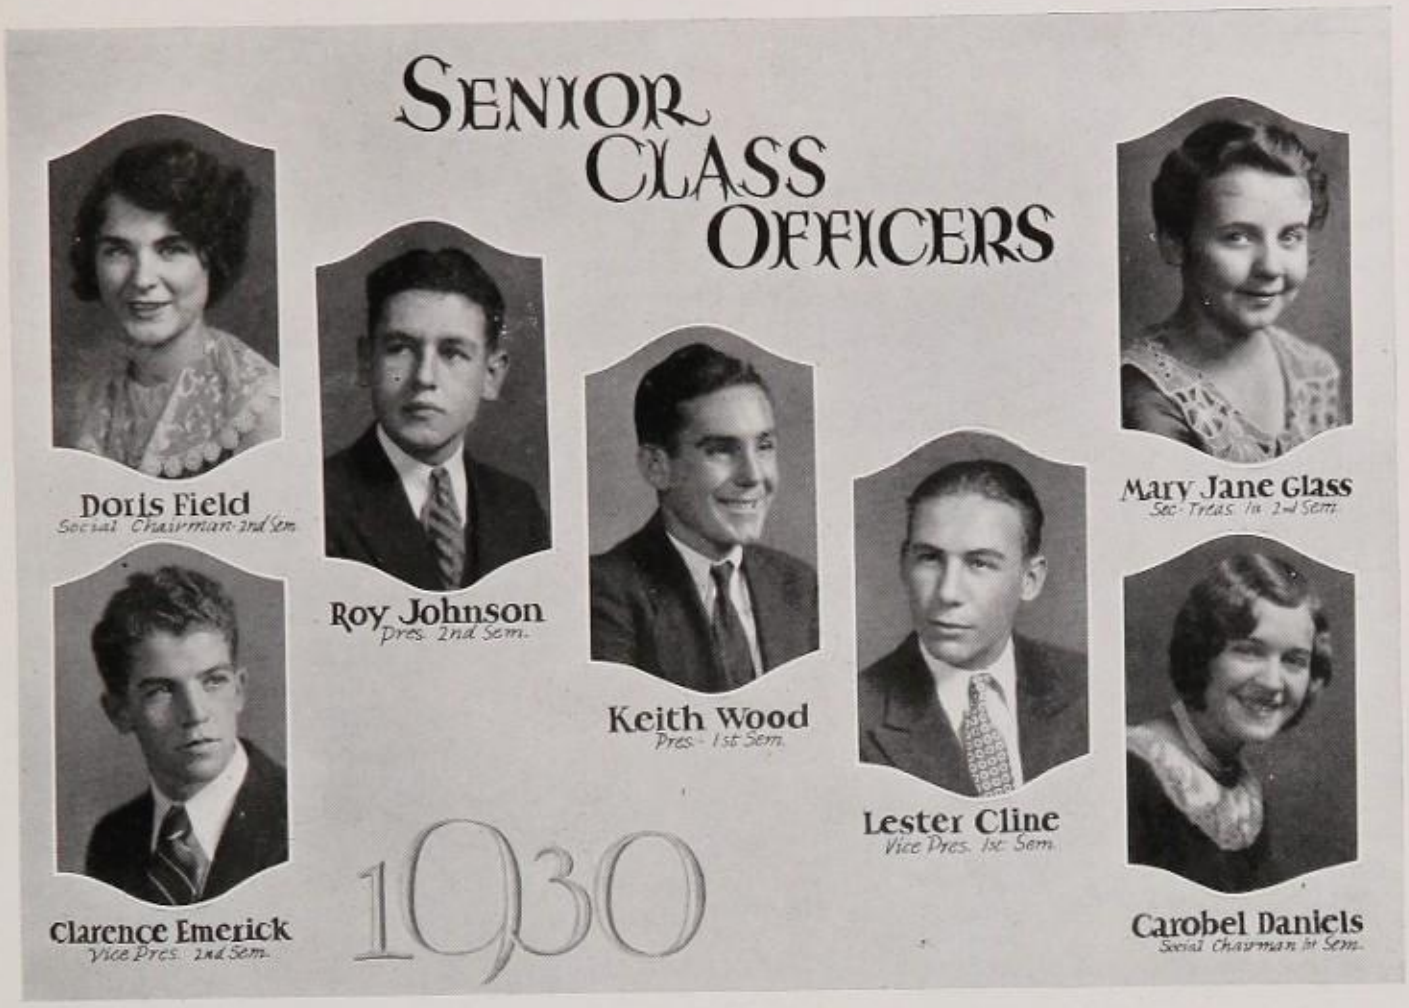
Classes

THE LIVES of Freshmen are not things of delight. They come into the new school with eager expectancy, but also with painful shyness. It seems to them that all of their mistakes and blunders are noticed. The class rooms are hard to find, and the pink, blue, yellow, and white slips are very confusing. However, after a few weeks, their greenness wears away, but the sting of being a "freshie" remains until the end of the year.

There are the "used to be freshies" present again—the Sophomores. They, too, are eager and excited, but very self-confident. They now know the school life and what fun they can have with the Freshmen. Gradually lasting friendships and "cliques" are formed, some of which develop into exclusive snobbery and others into delightful friendships.

The Juniors appear now as upper classmen and are rather proud of themselves. They are thrilled with new power and responsibility in managing school affairs. On them rests the success of the mid-year play, the Junior-Senior Banquet, and other similar duties.

Then comes the "high and mighty" class of seniors. In them is the real responsibility and leadership of school affairs vested. Most of them settle down to hard work both in studies and in school activities, realizing that this year will be their last chance of making a record. Besides their work many pleasant times are strewn along, and all regret that their last year has been finished.



Senior Class Officers

THE MEMBERS of the Senior Class of the Whittier Union High School have worked diligently during their Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years, and now find themselves nearing an important milestone in their lives. Both joy and regret are mingled in their hearts. The joy is for friendship formed, good times enjoyed, and work accomplished, while the regret comes from the breaking up of pleasant association.

The class has indeed been successful in its undertakings, for it has been prominent in scholarship, athletics, and all other Student Body activities. The Scholarship Society is largely composed of Seniors, and many are graduating with high honors. The class is represented in almost all of the other clubs and organizations of the school. In both its Junior and Senior years, a member of the class has carried away honors in the Oratorical Contest. Not only have the members supported boys' and girls' athletics enthusiastically, but they have encouraged school spirit and good fellowship by their Senior Pep Committee. This committee has arranged "peppy" rallies; and in collaboration with the Seniors' social chairman has sponsored several interesting affairs.

Within their own class, too, the Seniors have been very active. They ordered their class rings at the end of the Junior year, and therefore were able to wear them all year. Senior sweaters in class colors, blue and white, were ordered by most of the class. All of the routine work of the class has been dispatched promptly and efficiently.

CONCERNING THE SENIORS

Abdullah Says:

"I, ABDULLAH, THE GREAT, who have been given power by the Gracious Almighty to see far into the distant time, am hereby pledged to tell you of the future of the Senior Class of 1930.

In the very famous town of Whittier in that well remembered and beloved High School I see Keith Wood as head coach of boys' athletics. His main duties are teaching the boys home nursing and hygiene. The position of trainer is well filled by Norman Hedges. Among other teachers in that renowned famous institution are Charlotte Collins, sewing instructress; Mildred Fowler, cooking teacher, and Cloyda Mangrum, successor to Mrs. Lavin.

Now I see another famous spot, Eastridge. A fine mansion is being built by the Misses Margaret Binford and Jean Mogridge to be used as a consolation for ladies, who, like themselves, have been disappointed in love. The girls are remembering several of their old friends; they bought the land from J. W. Smith, prominent realtor in Whittier; Lynn Studebaker is contractor; Cloyce Hamilton, interior decorator; Barbara Rees, architect; Ed. Flutot, landscape artist. Some of the ladies who are expected to be inmates are Nina Noel, Virginia Eggleton, Lois Emry, Mildred Wright and Elizabeth Reese.

As my eye travels down the boulevard I see the Whittier Ice Plant, which has been greatly improved by Eddie Warner who has recently taken charge of it. Another prominent member of the class is Rita Smith. She also resides in Whittier. One Saturday morning, after she had finished her dusting, she hopped into her airplane and took a jaunt around the world, coming back in time for church the next morning. Ellis "Sandy" Triggs (whom you will well remember) has also chosen Whittier for his home, although he has just been elected sheriff of Los Angeles County. Rowland Harker, one of our orators, now Professor of Evolution at Whittier College, is stirring the community with his revelations. I see that Welman Haworth, after working diligently since graduation, has just invented a kodak which takes talking, colored, moving pictures. Pauline Bolt, who also has stayed with the old home town, recently announced that she will take over "Dot" Seeley's business. Now I will take a look into the business section of Whittier. Myron Fales, head of Montgomery-Ward, has just hired Helen Bennet as his secretary. Wilma Biswell is the head of the women realtors of Los Angeles County. Willie Alf is also quite a business man; he has just built an addition to his service station on West Hadley Street. Frances Guieterrez is in charge of the Welfare Work in the city of Whittier.

Now I shall turn away from the city of Whittier to find the persons who have strayed elsewhere. As my all-seeing eye travels down Beverly Boulevard it stops at a large building which looks like a hospital. Yes, it is "Pet Inn" and here I find Carolyn Petty, the owner, who is noted for her loving motherly care of animals. Our friend Clarence Emrick is the veterinarian, while Grace Kelsey is a very capable animal nurse. As I travel down the road to the city of Pico, I see a large sign which says that the "World's Champion Boxer, Bob Downey, is to give a "Demonstration" tonight at the Pico Sporting Club." Now, as I go down Whittier Boulevard I see the Flying Field. Wilfred Trueblood is the owner and chief instructor. Among his pupils are Annabel Olson and Betty Jane Pomeroy. As I proceed farther I come upon Farnum and Dailey's Circus, where I will stop a moment. Why there are Fred Bradley and Walter Freer, now a famous acrobatic team, and here is Wilma Jenkins, the fat woman. Next I will go to Norwalk, a once famous city. Here in the secondary institution of learning I find Marian Aue, head of the Latin Department, Clisby Loomis, Professor of Chemistry, and Ethel Milner, teaching Harmony. Donald Dozier is also in Norwalk. He decided that here would be a most appropriate site for his Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

Now, as I journey to Los Angeles, I see Geneva Joray in Montebello giving lessons in playing Jazz—one lesson is sufficient to learn. Albert Woodward also has a studio in Montebello. He gives dancing lessons (to young and pretty girls only). On surveying other surrounding towns I find Elizabeth Perry in Glendale. Elizabeth has founded the Anti-Women's Smoking League. In Pasadena Madge Roberts is well-known for her invention of a permanent wave which lasts a lifetime. In Long Beach, Eldora Clopton and her brother have just successfully completed the latest Dance Marathon which lasted for six months. Down at Venice another contest was won by a former Whittier girl, Mary Jane Phillips—a bathing beauty contest.

In the city of Los Angeles, I behold many of your people scattered about. An advertisement for the "Desert Song," which seems to have had a revival, informs me that Virgil Blewett is the Red Shadow, while Doris Field has the feminine lead. Other members of the cast are: Benny, Lyle Headon; Suzan, Elsie Benbow; the vamp, Helen McClean; and Allah Ben Allah, Ed Rogers; Dramatic director, Camilla Vincent; music director, Jack Fulbright. Here I see another sign advertizing Lucky Strike Cigarettes. That is how Hazel Bell is spending her time these days. Now I see Charles Bealmer working the spotlight and Charles Bills playing in the orchestra at "Tea Tom's." As I take up a copy of the Los Angeles Times I see June Albright's name as Sports Editor. He writes the dope sheets and has never been known to be wrong. Here too is Richard Nixon. He sponsors the Times Oratorical Contests, which are still going strong.

Here is another account in the Times that will interest you. Miss Edythe Overman was married to the smallest man in the world while descending from an airplane driven by Charles Russel, in a parachute manipulated by Clifford Marshall. Margaret Mitchell also dangled in mid-air playing the wedding march on a collapsible piano. John Rensimeir, Times photographer, took pictures while he was descending.

There is Violet Varner going down the street. She teaches Manicuring in Woodbury's Commercial College. Now I am passing the court house where Judge Don Fulbright spends most of his time. At present he is doing his best to help the Johnsons, Evelyn, Clarence, Glen, Rodell, and Opal to get a law passed by the legislature forbidding the name of Johnson to be used hereafter. Now I see that famous Angelus Temple. There is Ruth Wyant who has taken over Mrs. McPherson's work. Here is also another religious worker, Aubrey Myers, a second Bob Schuler.

Now I will proceed to Hollywood, a place which has attracted a great many of your friends. Mary Jane Glass has a studio here giving lessons to the movie actresses on the intricacies of the "Art of Acquiring It." Gerald Gregory is making a name for himself in the talking picture, "Who Knows What." Gerald plays the father; some of your other friends also taking part are: Carl Spencer, the son; Neva Wright, the leading lady; and Jessie Rideout, the vamp. Florence Timmerman is also in the movies. She is gaining a splendid reputation as a second Winnie Lightner. Dorothy Hardison has had a great many offers to enter the pictures since winning the title of the "World's Most Beautiful Titian Haired Girl." Ruth Whiting conducts a studio of fancy dancing on the M. G. M. lot. Mary 'O Van Deman, for the last week, has been conducting her orchestra in the Hollywood Bowl. Thurlo Ashton, also in this city, is a Stage Crew Union man in charge of seeing that his subordinates do not work over time. Nearby, in Saugus, I find Les Cline, who has taken the place of both Hoot Gibson and Tom Mix in the movies and has won the nickname "Hoot" Cline. This week he is staging a rodeo at his ranch (the former Baker Ranch) featuring a woman's bulldogging contest which Edith Hover is expected to win. Forrest Randall will probably carry off the bronco busting prize. Gene Langston and Lottie Korsmeier are two of the famous women trick riders taking part.

I see no more here; I must go to northern California. For the past six months San Francisco has been exclaiming over the death of Miss Wren Rucker, prominent dramatic actress. What might have been a sensational murder case was solved by lawyer Glenn Tudor, defense for William Myers, accused because he was seen around Miss Rucker's home at the time of her supposed murder. It was finally decided that Miss Rucker killed herself because of a love affair. From this place I will go to Sang Sang Penitentiary, where I behold Charlotte Swearingen a welfare worker; next to Mill's College, where Margaret Sampson is head of girls' athletics and Merle Lund is a Professor of Latin. From thence to the Mohave Desert, where I find Francis Metheringham, growing seedless blackberries, a novelty which has recently become very popular. Helping him in this great project is Millicent Mennell.

I will now endeavor to bring before your eyes your classmates who have wandered far away to other states of this great Union. There is William Wachtel who is still attending the University of Arizona but is expected to get his diploma this year. Ola Florence Welch, prominent western story writer is in Arizona also, studying local color. In Tennessee there is Irene Hewitt, who is teaching Art to the mountain children. Robert Counts and his famous Jazz Orchestra are in Kentucky. Three of your girl friends, Violet Smith, Evelyn Erb, and Elizabeth Schmidt, have retired to St. Catherine's Convent in Chicago because the world was becoming too wild for them. Also in Chicago are the headquarters of the "M. & K." Restaurants operated by Myrtle Kahlmeyer and Mildred Kennedy.

Now in New York a great many of your people have been successful. First I shall take the stage. Irving Yates, well-known theatre magnet, is presenting Grace Forbes, tap dancer, who has just completed a successful season in Los Angeles. Genevieve Koontz, Musie Weber, and Thera Hockett are three of the most prominent members of Ziefield's Follies. Leaving the stage I find that Bob Williams is editor of the New York Times and that Hayden Almendinger is his cartoonist. Effie Denlinger is an outstanding beauty specialist, especially known for her treatment of eyebrows. And here is your very good friend "Mac" Tuft still with the printing racket. Now he is president of the largest printing firm in the world, due to his very fine work on the Annual of 1930. You may be interested in hearing that he just lately published a book written by Bill Vaughn on "Why Skii Jumping is Bad for the Heart." Gladys Simpson and Frances Faris are two of "Mac's" army of secretaries. Nearby is the famous "Plantation" night club run by Roy Johnson, our old friend. Here also is "Newsom's Exclusive Women's Shop" owned by your friend Roy Newsom, who always made a hit with the ladies. Marian Collins is his Paris buyer. Bob Haworth also has his headquarters in New York. He runs a daily Trans-Atlantic Air Passenger Service from New York to Paris. Here, too, is Manager Louis Valla of the Yanks. He tells me that the team owes its championship to the marvelous pitching of Harold Fowler. Here, too, are Viola Emery, Elizabeth Hall, and Louise Develine, three well-known workers in the W. C. T. U.

In Boston I see Marvel McCall, editor of McCall's Magazine, and Loren Campbell, who is manager of the Woolworth Chain Stores. On Long Island I see the famous Zebra-Striped Fox Farm owned by Fay Connell and Naomi Crawford. Now to the Allegheny Mountains: There I behold Virginia Howland writing that inspiring bit of poetry which will give her a place in Who's Who. In Washington, D. C., I find Barbara Cogburn recently elected to the Supreme Court, and Richard Harris, senator, originator of the bill to place a harbor on the Los Angeles River near Pico.

Down in New Orleans are the Ben Greet Players who are fortunate enough to have among their number several famous Whittierites: Eliza Gaskill as Lady Macbeth; Ruth Lily McGee, Katherine; Harold Grismore, Polonius; and Grace Reagen, Ophelia. In Texas Dorothy Crow is happily married and is living on a large plantation where she raises Texas Brand Tamales. Over in Kansas on a fine farm Leona Berndston and her husband are famous for their alfalfa which yields peanuts. In Reno I find Glenn Casey who is procuring his third divorce, with the aid of Pauline Hudson, a lawyer who specializes in divorce cases.

Last of all, in the States, I see some traveling people. Ruth Ware and Carmen Thompson have invented a new shampoo, "Beauty Lust," which they are demonstrating. Vincent Youngquist is making good, too, as a salesman for Runproof Hosiery Co. Maxine Troutner is a living model who displays his wares for him.

Now I leave the United States and look to the ones who have spread their wings and have flown to foreign lands. In Tia Juana Pedro and Concha Alvarado, and Alex Hernandez charm visitors with their music. In Mexico City, Rosalia and Manuela Ponce are teaching school. Down in South America I find Lucille Lotheridge and William Hiatt. Lucille has just riscovered a new type of grasshopper, which has only one leg. She hopes to start a grasshopper farm soon. Thelma Cheever will help her in this project. William has discovered the art of bulldogging rhinoceroses. In Africa, Beulah Gault is introducing popcorn to the natives. She is aided by her sister Miriam who, in her spare time, teaches the children how to play hop-scotch. Olive Dell is also in Africa as a missionary. Over in Japan is Masa Ito who is placing United States History in Japanese schools.

In Siberia I find Bob Logue, Herb Hadley, and George Loomis, temporarily stranded on their vagabond trip around the world. At present they are digging ditches. India is the home of Houston Blankenship, known there as "Black Hou." He is there because his tender heart prompted him to aid the Indians in gaining their freedom. Czechoslovakia finds Marie Sietz and Hazel Pinnel defending their title of the "Champion Women Croquet Players of the World." In Greenland I see Lou Bainer and Dorothea Irwin. Lou teaches the children Spanish while Dorothea gives them lessons on the violin. The Olympic Games are another feature of Greenland. With Gordon Cooley, low hurdler; Francis Perrin, broad jumper; and Lyle Otterman as their manager there will be two records broken at least. There in Holland is Hazel Bardwell, demonstrating "How to get thin quick" medicine, invented by Milton Lutz.

England gives you again, Frank Graves, who is on a concert tour playing the harmonica, and Marjorie Benbow, noted archer, nicknamed "Bend-Bow," who has been capturing many tourneys. In London Cloudsly French is one of the most renowned painters; at this time he is doing a portrait of the beautiful Countess Whosawhatsit (nee Eddith Spencer) and her young son.

In France the first thing I hear of is the success of the Rhea Sisters, Gwen and Olga, who were presented this year by Pantages. You may remember that Pantages presented the Hiatt girls, Ethel Marie and Helen Janet. And there is Florence Clough, married now to a French Count (I would not endeavor to give you his name). It is enough to know that she is living at court. Helena "Lone" Dingle is also in Paris. She is just on an adventure working as a mannequin in a famous dress salon before she writes her book on "The Temptations of a Working Girl." In a small corner of Eastern France I find Louis Hunt who has lately discovered a new planet through a new type of telescope invented by Harold Cook. The planet will be called Planet "Z."

Sunny Italy has become the home of Doctors George Buehler and Homer Rosenberger. These two outstanding men conduct an appendicitis hospital where they specialize in fancy stitching. Eugenia Arnold is responsible for their many clever patterns. Emma Renkin, Virginia Bull, and Harriet Palmer are three nurses of merit in this institution.

In Ireland Winston Crow and Woodrow Foster are defending their title of "World's Champion Ping Pong Players." Harold Brown is now successfully conducting evangelistic services in the Philippines and Marjorie Hildreth is teaching the natives how to do the Hula-hula. Louise Cook is in Honolulu taking up the study of ukulele playing.

Of all the startling inventions of the past century one made just recently by Wallace Morrison is probably most astounding. It is a portable landing place for airplanes which allows the planes to land anywhere, even in midair.

At last Mars has been reached! After several almost fatal attempts Robert Price made it. He has come back to tell us of his adventures. When he goes back again he will take a great many people to start civilizing the country. Among them will be: Barbara Shuman, prohibitionist; Mary Regan, singing teacher; Mary Lee Lewis, sewing instructress; Edna Litten, Latin teacher; Bernell Ralston, home nursing; and the famous chef, Daniel Miller, will go to teach the men of Mars cooking.

This is all; I grow tired. I see no more. By the grace of Allah, the All-Merciful, I have been able to tell you these things. Farewell, I will see you anon.

Junior Class

AS UPPER CLASSMEN, the Juniors organized into a strong and active organization with Mrs. Counsell as their advisor. They have indeed been very active in school affairs, and especially so in their own class. Establishing a custom not heretofore followed in this high school, they ordered class rings for their Junior year. They have been very active in dramatics, having held the lead in several important plays. Their play, "The Radio Mystery," was the most successful mid-year play presented in many years. Their crowning success was the Junior-Senior Banquet which was largely attended and enjoyed.

Sophomore Class

WITH MR. PHELPS as advisor, the Sophomores organized early in the year. The usual rivalry between the Freshmen and Sophomores ensued for several weeks. However, all hard feelings were forgotten and forgiven when the Sophomores gave the Freshmen a reception. The members of this class give promise of becoming successful upper-classmen.

THE FRESHMEN, as usual during the first year, have been busier getting acquainted and becoming accustomed to their new life than in doing class business. They did, however, organize and begin class work. The Freshman-Senior Tea and the Freshman-Sophomore reception helped them to get acquainted. Their enthusiasm and energy in school affairs have been especially noticeable.

Alumni Association

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION has, for the last two years, been one of Whittier High's most active and helpful organizations. Starting with a membership of two hundred, it has made the year 1929-30 an especially successful one.

The Alumni began the year with a formal dance at the Whittier Woman's Club house on Saturday evening, September 7. A peppy rally on November 26, the night before the Fullerton Football game, was also sponsored by the Alumni Association.

The business of the organization is carried on by the board of directors, which is elected at an annual mass meeting of the Alumni Association.

The new board of directors, chosen at the meeting of the Association on February 27, has decided upon the activities for the coming year. The board plans to have four dances during the year, a dinner-dance and annual reunion in June, and a rally for the High School in the fall. They also expect to publish the Alumni Journal. ORGANIZATIONS

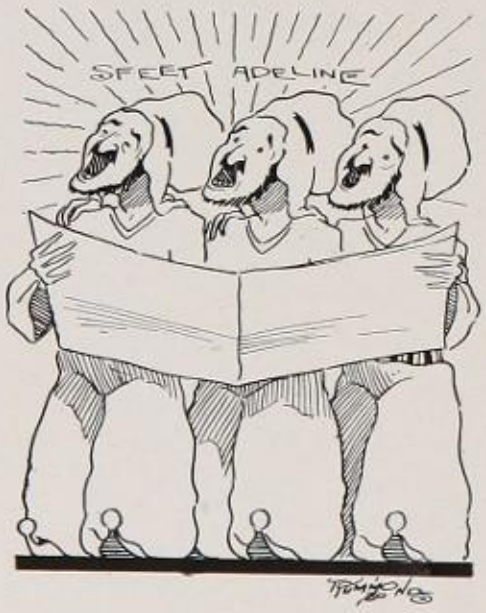
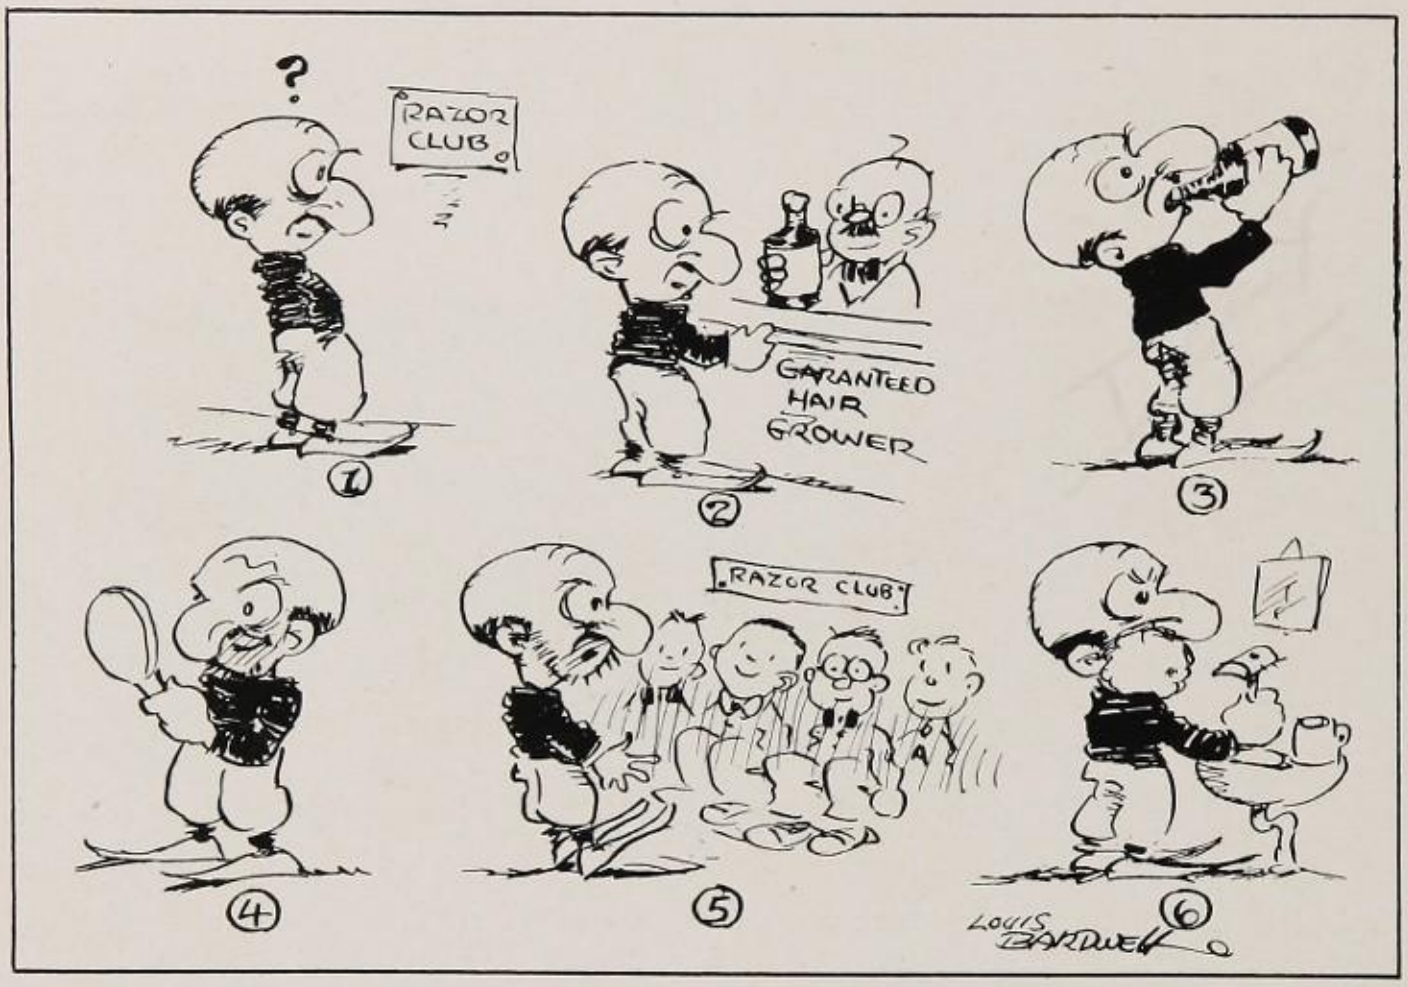
Abdullah says:

"If wisdom's ways you'd wisely seek
Five things observe with care:
Of whom you speak, to whom you speak,
And how, and when, and where."



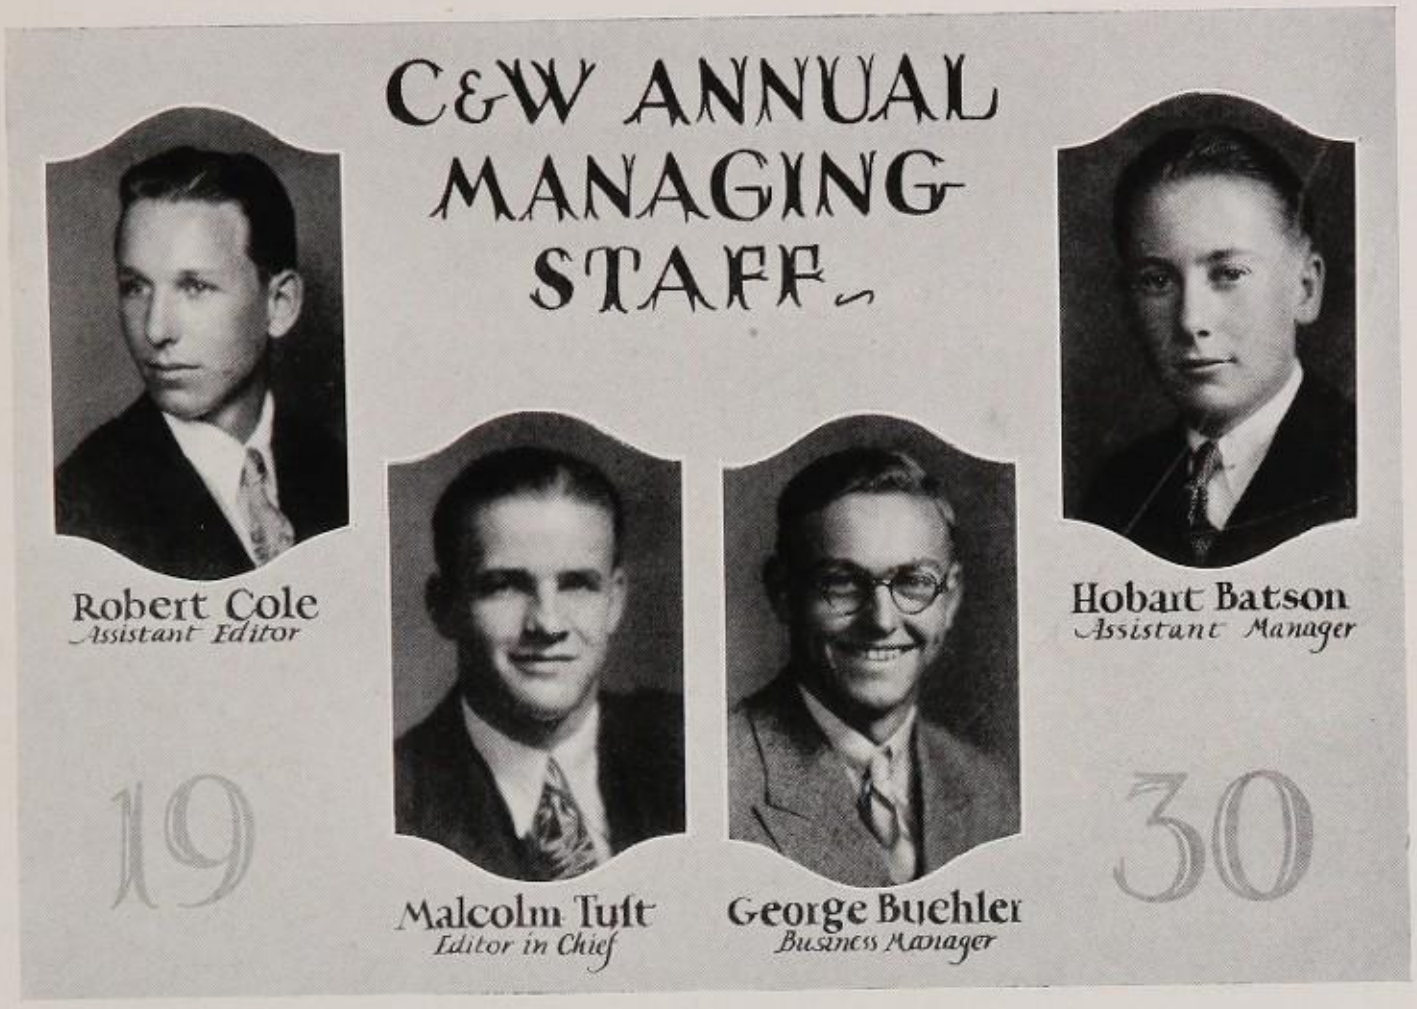


Organizations

ONE OF THE most important factors in the life of a larger High School is its organizations. They give the students a chance to mingle and become acquainted with each other. The organization of the clubs is very similar in that each has a teacher advisor and a set of elected officers. Their purpose is to provide school fellowship and promote interest in the various subjects of study.

The three largest organizations are the Student Body, to which every student is eligible; Girls' League, to which every girl is eligible; and Razor Club, to which all boys are eligible. Membership into other clubs is limited to those students who are interested in the work of each club. Other clubs are: Varsity Club, Scholarship Society, Pep Committee, Hi-Y Club, Latina Sodalitas, Le Cercle Francais, Los Castellanos, Art Club, Commerce Club, Roadrunners, Entomology Club, Camera Club, Stage Crew, Advanced Composition Society, Cafeteria Club, and Cooking Club.

Two staffs were formed this year, in order that the work of editing the Annual and the weekly papers might be lessened. Malcolm Tuft edited the Annual, while Robert Williams edited the paper. Robert and his faithful staff deserve special mention, as they have edited one of the most interesting school papers ever printed in Whittier.



C. & W. Annual Staff

THE PURPOSE of the C. & W. Annual Staff has been to present to the student body a summary of the year's activities, both social and scholastic; to give the personnel of student and faculty administration; to record the athletic events of the year; and, above all, to publish a yearbook that will bring back the memories and traditions of Whittier High and give many happy hours in the years to come.

We, the staff, have endeavored to accomplish this purpose and to present the book in an interesting manner by working out the Arabic art theme.

In compiling this edition of the Cardinal and White we have been greatly indebted to Mrs. Vincent and to the other teachers of the English Department for the many helpful ideas given and for the correction of material. We wish to express our appreciation to Miss Marks for her suggestions and for the censoring of the art work, and to Miss O'Farrell and her efficient commercial department for untiring efforts in typing material. Finally, we wish to thank the student body for its backing in the annual sale on which the success of the annual depended.

To the graduating seniors we hope that this edition has proved a fitting climax to four memorable years at Whittier High and that it will become more enjoyable as the years go by.

Girls' League

BECAUSE OF THE efficient management of its officers, its standing committee chairmen, and the cooperation of its membership, the Girls' League has had one of the most successful years since its organization. From the following outline, one may gauge the scope of its work:

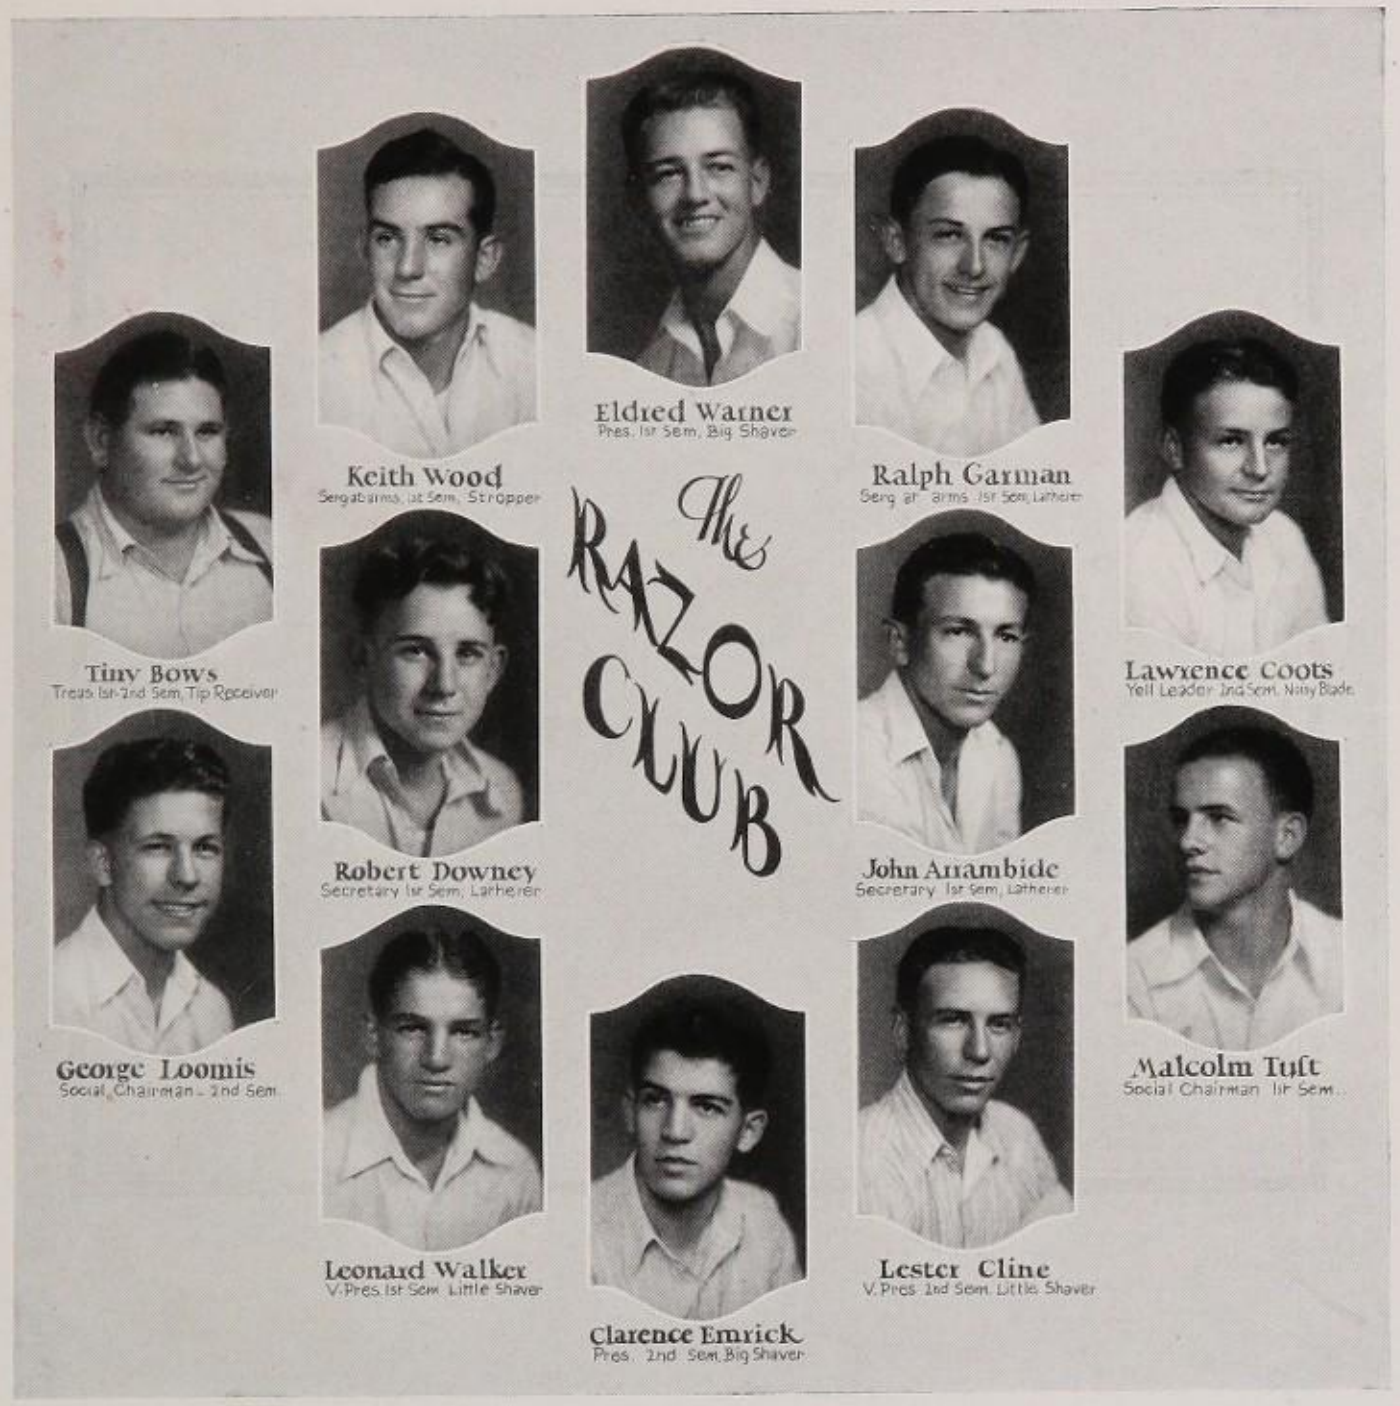
Social Service—Christmas charity, floral offerings, presentation of pins to officers, and refurnishing of the rest-rooms.

Social Functions—Senior-Frosh Tea, Carnival, Frosh-Senior Tea, Reception of Mothers and Birthday Banquet.

Conventions—The fall convention at Phoenix, Arizona, and the spring meeting at Orange, California.

Publication—Etiquette Booklet, which was ready for distribution on May 1st.

Benefit Play—"Janice Meredith," given November 19th.

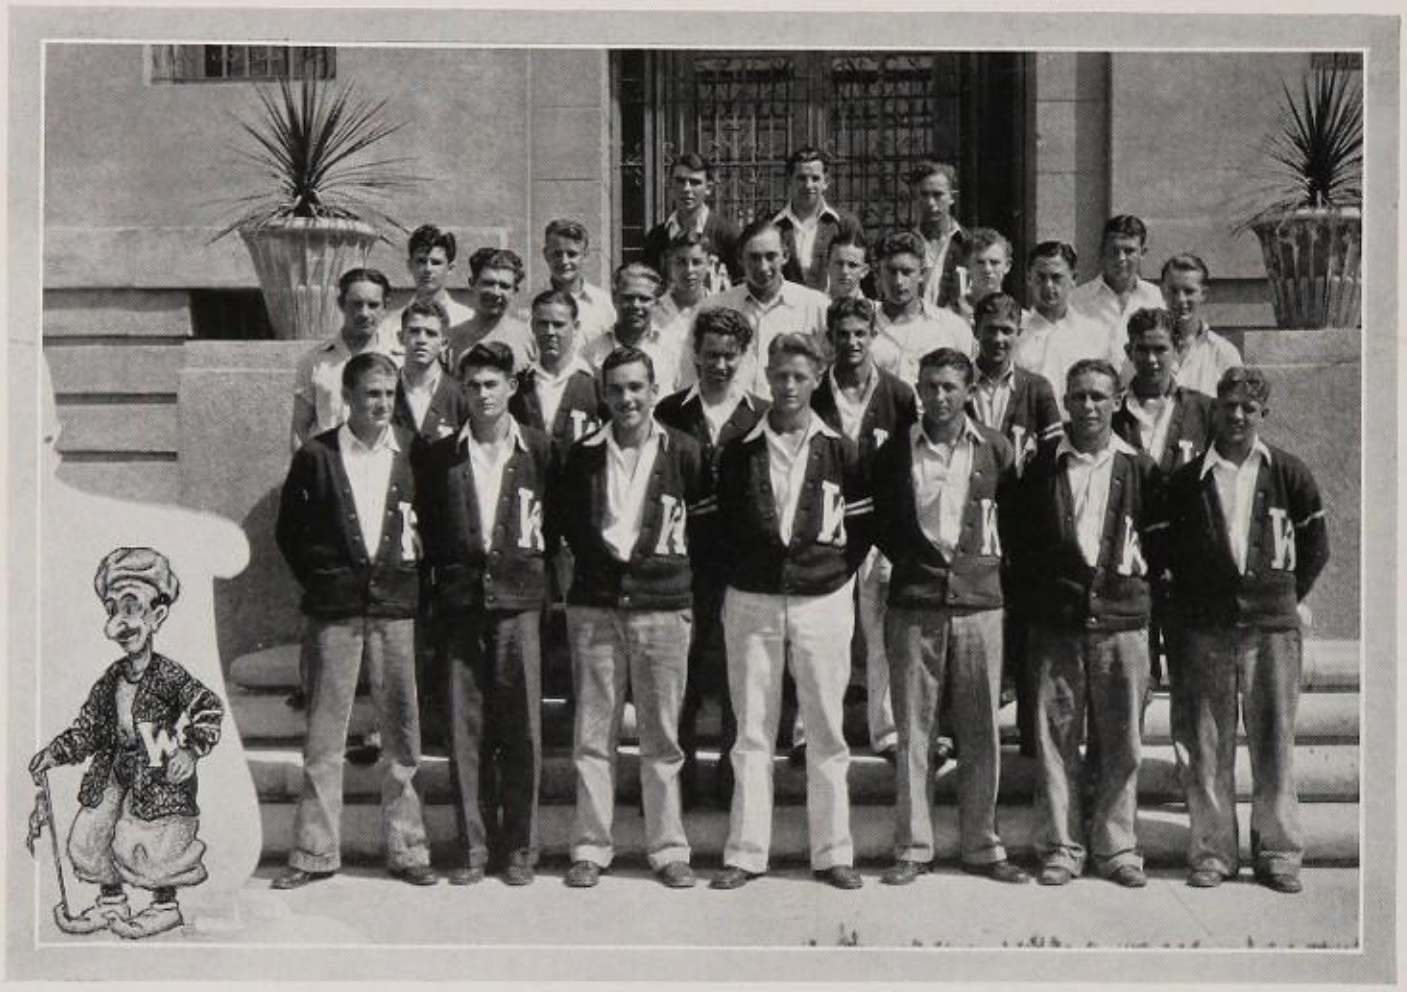


Razor Club

NEVER, SINCE the organization of the Razor Club in the year 1922-23, has it accomplished more, aroused more high spirits, or created more good will than it has during the present year.

All of the achievements of this year's Razor Club have not, by any means, been visible to all the students. In conjunction with the Varsity Club it raised $750; bought quite a number of educational films which were shown during noon hours; paid for one issue of the Cardinal and White; put on a movie for the students; aided several boys to get jobs, and in some instances bought wearing apparel for them; and promoted a program in the interest of the Citizen's Military Training Camp.

The Vigilance Committee is elected by the Razor Club to establish order on the campus. The members were Walker, Emrick, Downey, Imboden, Arrambide, Logue, Tuft, Harris, Bows, Wood, Garman, and Warner.



Varsity Club

THE VARSITY CLUB was formed in 1927. It is composed of athletes who have earned a varsity letter in any of the four major sports: football, basketball, track, or baseball.

In accepting membership in this organization an athlete pledges himself to aid in the promotion of high standards of sportsmanship and to encourage high scholarship among athletes.

It is the custom of the Varsity Club each year to select from the student body one man who has been outstanding in student activities and to make him an honorary member of the club. This year the honor was conferred upon Malcolm Tuft for his work on the annual.

A candidate for membership in this club must go through a stiff initiation. This initiation is performed in such a way that the candidate is impressed with the fact that it means a good deal to be a Varsity member. Four initiations were held this year.

The officers for this year were:

President ..... JOHN ARRAMBIDE
Vice President ..... KEITH WOOD
Secretary-Treasurer ..... ELLIS TRIGGS

Scholarship Society

EARLY IN THE school year 1921-1922, delegates from about thirty high schools in the vicinity of Los Angeles met and organized the California Scholarship Federation. These schools cast lots for chapter numbers, and in the drawing, Whittier Union High School became Chapter XXVI. From this modest beginning, each year has witnessed a substantial growth of the Federation, until now it numbers more than two hundred member schools and reaches from the southern boundary to the Oregon line. For greater convenience the State has been divided into a Northern, Central, and Southern region and each region is subdivided into districts. Regional and district meetings are held at different times throughout the year.

The purpose of the organization is to foster a high standard of scholarship and all-around attainment. Students who earn membership twelve out of the sixteen quarters, at least two of which are in the senior year, are awarded the official gold pin of the Federation, have the Seal of the Chapter embossed upon their diploma and college recommendations, and become life members of the Chapter. In addition, these "seal bearers" are, in many cases, given special recognition upon entering college. Twelve members of the class of 1930 have, so far, qualified for the awards.

The officers for the year have been:

President ..... RICHARD NIXON
Vice President ..... HOBART BATSON
Secretary-Treasurer ..... LOUISE WOODS
Social Chairman ..... WREN RUCKER

Pep Committee

THE SENIOR PEP Committee, introduced this year for the first time, was organized for the sole purpose of stimulating school spirit and cooperation in school activities. In looking over the accomplishments of the year just passed we find that the organization and its work seems to have been very successful. It has sponsored many programs, rallies, and dances, besides decorating the athletic field and lending financial aid. Some of the brightest social events of the year were the rally, serpentine, and bonfire previous to the South Pasadena game, the memorable Thanksgiving game rally and dance, and the Cord and Gingham dances.

The numerous successes of this first Senior Pep Committee should interest the next year's Seniors in organizing a similar one. The Senior Pep Committee wishes to express its appreciation to the Women's Club, the Alumni Association, and above all the Student Body for their backing and cooperation.

Hi-Y Club

THE HI-Y CLUB is formed of Juniors and Seniors who intend to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." The meetings are held every Monday night at 6:30 at the "Y" where, after supper, the members listen to well-known speakers and hold discussions on various topics.

In addition to the regular meetings, special events, such as Faculty Night, Girls' Night, Mothers' and Fathers' Nights, and joint meetings with other organizations, were held.

Hi-Y conventions held at Monrovia and Hollywood at the first of the year were enthusiastically attended by a great many fellows of the local club.

An active part was taken by a team from the club in reaching the membership goal set for this year in the annual Y. M. C. A. Investment Week program.

A beach party for the members and their girl friends proved a fitting climax to a very successful Hi-Y year. The club, under the leadership of Leonard Dahlquist, Boys' Work secretary, has had one of the most enjoyable and progressive years in its history, and its members are to be congratulated.

The officers of the year were:

President ..... FRANCIS PERRIN
Vice President ..... RALPH GARMAN
Secretary ..... HAROLD BAILEY
Treasurer ..... HOBART BATSON

Latina Sodalitas

THE AIM of the Latin Club is to arouse an interest in classical things in a social way. The outstanding events of the year were a Christmas party, a St. Patrick's dinner party, to which the alumni of the club were invited, and the Roman banquet staged in true Roman style.

At the regular meetings Latin songs are sung, and reports are given on such subjects as Roman professions, the value of Latin today, and Roman legends. A very interesting play, "A Day Without Latin," was given by one of Miss Wolin's first-year classes. The installation and initiation ceremonies with ritual in Latin were very impressive.

The club has proved to be both helpful and interesting under Miss Steck's leadership.

Le Cercle Francais

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS has had one of its most interesting years. It was organized in 1924 under the leadership of Miss Ethel George to make the study of French more interesting and to have social functions for its members. All students who have taken, or are taking French, are eligible to membership. The meetings, which are conducted entirely in French, are held on the first Tuesday of each month. At the meetings the members have interesting talks and play French games. At alternate meetings light refreshments are served.

One of the most important and best of the social functions of the Cercle was a party given in December at the English Tavern. After a delicious dinner the members played several French games and Bunco till a late hour. Another enjoyable event was the pot-luck supper.

Los Castellanos

THE SPANISH CLUB was organized this year under the supervision of Miss Freeland. The purpose of this club is to give the students an opportunity to speak Spanish and to hear it spoken, to learn more about Spanish-speaking countries, and to become better acquainted.

Many interesting meetings have been held. One of the most worth while was the meeting at which Dr. McClean of the Whittier College spoke on Cuba. Perhaps the most delightful meeting was the Christmas party. There were two novel features, each illustrating a Spanish custom. The lottery was very exciting and attracted much attention. The Pinata was used instead of a Christmas tree. The gifts were placed in a beautifully decorated earthen jug which was broken, and each member present received a gift. Most of the meetings were held after school, but one enjoyable meeting was held third period so that all the members could attend. The program consisted of Spanish songs and dances, and talks on Spanish-speaking countries by the third year students. The officers for this year were as follows:

Art Club

FOR ELEVEN YEARS the Art Club has carried on its instructive work under the able supervision of its advisor and organizer, Miss Ida Lee Marks. The purpose of the Art Club is to help those students artistically inclined to acquire information on Art subject which they are unable to obtain in class work. Only second year art students are eligible.

This club is the oldest and one of the most active clubs in the High School. Meetings are held on the first and third Mondays of each month. At every other meeting, which is social, hosts and hostesses chosen from the club supervise games and serve refreshments. The alternate meeting presents a program. Interesting and instructive material is reported on by club members. The subject for the year's reports was "Period Furniture." Some valuable knowledge was gained along this line.

During the year the club takes two trips to points of interest to Art students. One of the Hollywood studio scenery sets was visited, and a delightful morning was spent in the Los Angeles museum.

Commerce Club

SINCE THE ORGANIZATION of the Commerce Club it has had a large membership. All students, except Freshmen, who are enrolled in Commercial work, are eligible to become members. For the past two years the Commerce Club has been under the successful management of Miss Ruth O'Farrell, who has suggested many new and helpful ideas.

This year many social affairs also were given, one being a theater party at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater showing "The Show of Shows," followed by a luncheon at the "Mary Louise Tea Room." Another was an enjoyable supper party at the beach. Some very interesting talks have been given the club by business men and women. During this year the Commerce Club has chosen for its pin a gold shield with C. C. on it, and a small "W" for a guard.

Entomology Club

UNDER THE direction of its advisor, Mr. Jordan, the Entomology Club has had a most interesting and varied program this year. The many activities included a visit to the Huntington Library where the members studied the gardens, grounds, and especially a collection of cacti; a trip to the Southwest museum; an excursion to the river bottom; and many other field trips to the hills and beaches where a great many varieties of flowers and animal life were found and studied.

The presiding officers were as follows:

Roadrunners

THE ROAD RUNNER Club was organized three years ago to create an interest in the birds of this vicinity, their appearances, and habits. Meetings are held on the third Monday of each month, and every other meeting is a social meeting. During the year the club members have been favored by speeches by Mrs. H. N. Henderson and by Mrs. G. S. Hall of the Los Angeles Audubon Society. Field trips are held on the first Saturday of the month in order that the members may become better acquainted with the birds by actually watching them and observing their natural traits. This year field trips were enjoyed to Puente Creek, Standefer's Dam, Bailey Canyon, Turnbull Canyon, and Carbon Canyon. Among other social events of the year were a unique golf party and an April Fool's party, Mrs. Vinnie Aborn is the club's faculty advisor.

Members for this year were as follows:

First Semester		Second Semester
MADELINE ABORN	President	VERA HOLLOWAY
VERA HOLLOWAY	Vice President	LOUISE WOODS
RUTH CHAMBERS	Secretary	CRYSTAL KAMPART
DOROTHY THOMAS	Treasurer	RUTH PLANNETTE

Camera Club

THE CAMERA CLUB is an organization composed of girls who have studied or are studying chemistry. It is under the supervision of Mr. Cleveland of the chemistry department. Meetings are held after school on the fourth Monday of each month. The only expense to the members is the price of photograph paper. All other articles and materials used are furnished by the school.

The purpose of the club is to learn amateur photography, developing, printing, enlarging, and tinting. This is taught in a very interesting and entertaining manner. The club is planning some social affairs and outdoor photographing trips in the near future.

The officers for the year 1929-30 are:

President ..... CAMILLA VINCENT
Vice President ..... PRICILLA STEVENSON
Secretary-Treasurer ..... MARVEL MCCALL
Social Chairman ..... NEVA WRIGHT

Stage Crew

WHILE THOSE who are in the audience witness the dramatic presentations in the High School Auditorium they are not aware of the great amount of work being done by a silent corps of helpers called the stage crew.

The plays this year have called for an especially fast and efficient crew. For the "Radio Mystery" novel stage effects had to be produced, many lighting arrangements had to be made, and quick changes had to be rehearsed until everything could be in its place at the proper moment. "Janice Meredith," "Mam'zelle Taps," "The Taming of the Shrew," and other plays have been made possible by industrious stage crew as well as by good actors.

Manager George Buehler has kept this group working in harmony. The crew, under the very capable supervision of Mrs. Grassell, has benefited greatly from her instructions in proper stage settings and lighting for different scenes. This year they have also painted scenes which are useful, not only for one play, but also for future presentations.

Advanced Composition Society

THE ADVANCED Composition Society is an organization of Mrs. Carter's seventh period fourth-year English class. The society meets on every Friday during the class period. The object of the club is to become more familier with the advanced forms of oral and written composition and to gain practice in parliamentary law.

Each meeting of the society consists of a short business meeting, followed by a program presented by the members of the class. The program for the meetings, which are arranged by a committee, composed of the officers and Mrs. Carter, is very beneficial and interesting to the whole society. A different member is chosen by the president to act as chairman for each meeting so that every member may gain the experience of presiding over a meeting.

The present officers of the society are as follows:

GEORGE BUEHLER..... President
FRANCIS MEATHINGHAM..... Vice President
RUTH LILY MCGEE.....Secretary-Treasurer
MILLICENT MENNELL .....Critic and Parliamentarian

Cafeteria Service Committee

THE CAFETERIA Service Committee was organized in the fall of 1929 for the purpose of conducting the business of the cafeteria. This committee is composed of nine members whose various duties are to check trays, serve food, sell candy, and ice cream. The pop corn stand is also operated by a girl member of this committee.

The Cafeteria Service Committee is governed by its own rules and regulations, which are developed as the committee sees need for them. This year one problem was to get the cafeteria on a school business basis. Every member had to cooperate to make this possible.

Faults observed in the cafeteria management were remedied from time to time until now the organization has quite a clear understanding of its duties. Posters were made and placed in various parts of the building to acquaint students with menus and prices. Writeups have been furnished for the Cardinal and White Weekly. The real service, however, that this committee gives to the school and student body is its service across the counter.

The officers of the committee:

Chairman ..... BILL VAUGHN
Secretary ..... NORMA OXFORD
Business Manager ..... JAMES FERGUS

Cooking Club

IN 1926 MISS DELLA KING organized a Cooking Club which was made up of the girls of the first and second year cooking classes. There are now fifteen members of this club. Each year the club has used the same type of pin, which is in the shape of a small rolling pin bearing the initials C. W. C.

The members of the Cooking Club have been active in many social affairs this year. They have made and served refreshments for the Girls' League Executive Board. They have also served tea in the cooking flat when a meeting of the English Department was held there. Candy sales were held in the main hall frequently to raise money to pay the expense of our Annual picture.

They also helped in the making of decorations for the Junior-Senior Banquet, one of the big events of the High School.

The officers are as follows:

Mary McAleese	President	Marjorie McClean
Mabel Marling	Vice President	Viola Emry
Mary Weinshank	Secretary-Treasurer	Helen Bennet
Georgia L. Barron	Social Chairman	Georgia L. Barron

ATHLETICS

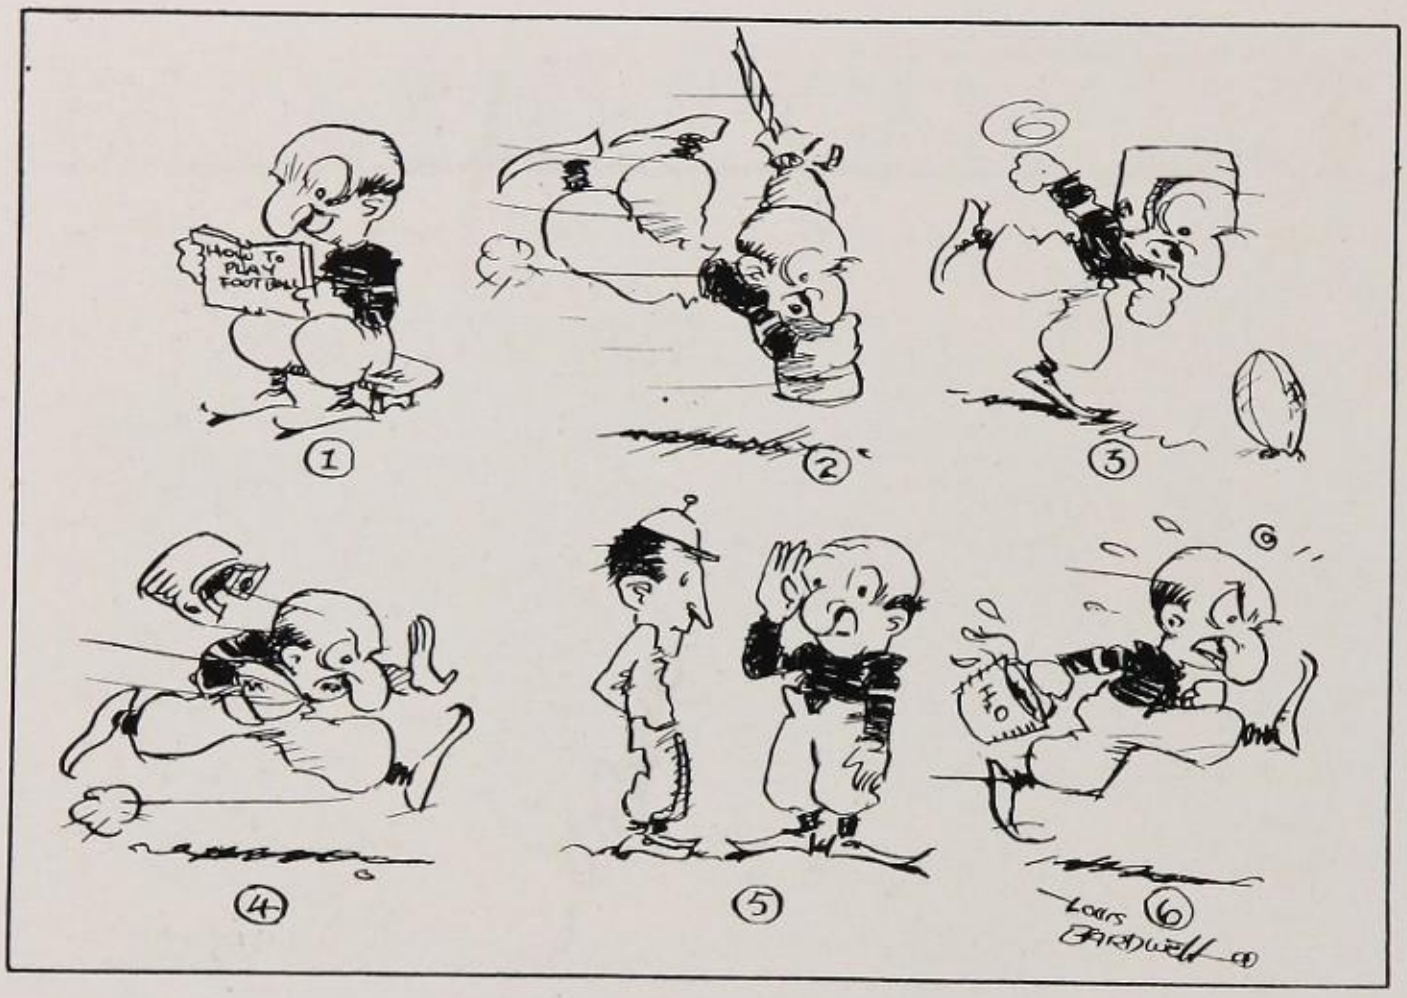
"The middle-aged man is he who has ceased to grow at either end, but continues to grow in the middle."



The Coaching Staff

WHITTIER HIGH may well be proud of her coaching staff. It contains some of the most efficient coaches of the league and was responsible for our many championship teams. Don Douglas took charge of the varsity football, basketball, and baseball teams and also coached the Class "B" basketball team, Southern California champions. Don Cole acted both as assistant baseball coach and as Class "B" football coach. His championship Class "B" team testify to his skill. Al Whitcomb closed his sixth successful year of coaching by directing the training of the football and basketball Class "C" athletes. Two newcomers were added to the staff this year, Fred Blosser and Tommy Phelan. Both have become very popular with the boys. Blosser coached the track and tennis squads and helped with the Class "C" football squad, while Phelan acted as assistant football coach and trainer.

Managing Staff

WHITTIER HIGH SCHOOL'S great success in athletics this year is largely because of the efforts of the managers. This year's staff is one of the most efficient we have ever had. Many of the members had previous experience in managing teams, and this fact has been of much help to the coaches. The main duties of the managers are to provide transportation, to take care of the equipment, and to arrange for meets or games. They are under the general supervision of Richard Nixon, general manager of the student body. The football managers are: June Albright, varsity; Bernard Cater, 130's; Arthur Taylor, 110's. Ed Rogers took care of all the basketball teams and did it successfully. Other managers are Lyle Otterman, track; George Buehler, baseball; and June Albright, tennis.

Yell and Song Leaders

MORE INTEREST was aroused this year in the selection of Yell Leader than has been shown for many years. A meeting was held in November to fill this position for the coming year, and only after a strenuous contest was Bert Maudlin chosen. Unfortunately, Bert had to resign. The vacancy left by his resignation was not immediately filled, and most of the basketball season passed without an official Yell Leader. Billy Moorehead served as a substitute in this position, and at a later business meeting was unanimously elected. Royal Staley and Russell Reagan were selected as his assistants. The three boys have practiced together a great deal, and for the first time in many years, Whittier High School has had three capable Yell Leaders. They have been given excellent support by the stands and are to a large extent responsible for the great amount of enthusiasm manifested during the school year.

The election for a Song Leader was held at the same time as that of the Yell Leaders and was even more bitterly contested. There were ten candidates for the position, each as good as the other. As the result of a very close vote Mary Jane Glass was chosen to direct the singing. When she and her two assistants, Doris Field and Helena Dingle, lead the singing, they made a very creditable showing. Although their work is not as exacting as that of the Yell Leaders they have contributed greatly to the success of the Student Body meetings.

PIGSKINNERS

Varsity Football

THIS YEAR has seen an important change in the attitude toward football at Whittier High. The student body spirit has been decidedly improved upon. This, along with the fact that Coach Don Douglas returned as football mentor after an absence of two years, did a great deal toward producing a good team.

The season's outlook was rather doubtful when September brought the prospects out in football togs. The main cause for worry was in the line which was somewhat light and inexperienced. However, during the course of the season, the forward wall came through with some brilliant performances. The backfield was the bright spot of the team, having the desirable combination of weight and speed. On this the student body placed their hopes.

WHITTIER vs. MONROVIA—The start of the season found Whittier invading Monrovia, with the dope fairly even. The first two quarters were scoreless, but in the third quarter, things began to happen for Whittier. Arrambide and Wood took the ball down the field on power plays which ended in a touchdown by Wood and a conversion by Arrambide. Whittier threatened again the fourth quarter but the gun boomed with the score board reading Whittier 7 - Monrovia 0.

WHITTIER vs. HOOVER—In the first home game, Hoover presented a strong team, but were not equal to the fighting Cards. After a series of line bucks, Arrambide went through tackle for a Whittier score. In the third quarter, after a long punt had placed the Hoover team within their own 10-yard line, the Card line broke through and dropped a Hoover man behind his goal line, the safety making the score 9-0 in favor of Whittier. Late in the game Hoover became dangerous but failed to score.

WHITTIER vs. SOUTH PASADENA—Whittier threatened to score in the first quarter, but an incomplete pass over the goal spoiled the chance. Late in the second quarter, Coon took the ball on a sneak play through the line for a twenty yard gain. On the next play Imboden bounced through tackle for another 20-yard gain and a score. South Pasadena came back and scored in the third quarter on a series of passes and runs. Fortunately for Whittier they failed to convert. The Tigers again threatened late in the game but the Cards here displayed their grit and held the ferocious Tigers for downs as the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

WHITTIER vs. BURBANK—The Cards were in the best of condition and ran all over the lot to the dire distress of the Burbank defense. Every member of the backfield accounted for a Whittier Score. Captain Wood and Arrambide starred for the Cards in the backfield, while those in the line fought like demons. The final score favored Whittier 26-7.

WHITTIER vs. MUIR TECH.—The Cards started off with a bang, threatening twice in the first quarter, the second of which materialized into a touchdown when Arrambide crossed the line standing up. Arrambide converted with a beautiful kick. Muir Tech. then opened up with a passing attack which brought them into scoring distance, from which point they made a touchdown on a line buck. Muir Tech. converted, making the score 7-7. In the third quarter Muir Tech. made 75 yards on two consecutive passes, and a few minutes later the final score read Muir Tech. 13-Whittier 7.

WHITTIER vs. FULLERTON—The Cards scored the first touchdown early in the first quarter by a beautifully executed pass from Captain Wood to Cline. Fullerton came back strong and scored in the second quarter when Carpenter, lanky Indian end, leaped high to snag a pass and fall over the line. Fullerton easily converted and the score stood 7-6. The Indians' second touchdown came in the fourth quarter after Whittier held them inside the five-yard line for three downs. The final score was 13-6 in favor of Fullerton.

With nine lettermen returning, and a championship Class B team coming up, the prospects for next season are brighter than ever. Those who received varsity football letters this year are: Captain Keith Wood Arrambide, Coon, Clemmons, Cline, Dahlitz, Emrick, Harris, Hadley, Imboden, Kampert, Loomis, Robbins, Walker, Warner, Wagner, and Manager June Albright.

ELDRED WARNER, End

"Eddie" held down an end position this year in the varsity squad, and came through with some fine performances. His part of the line was well filled and as he graduates this year it will be hard to find another man to fill Eddie's end next season.

CLISBY LOOMIS, End

"Clis" returned to Whittier this year to hold down an end position on the Cardinal grid machine. He took care of his side of the line in great fashion and was a real threat to opposing backs. Clis will not be back in the lineup next season and it will be hard to fill his place.

CECIL HARRIS, Tackle

"Cece" started at tackle this year, and cut a big figure in the Card offense. He was everywhere, blocking and tackling man after man. Big or little, they were all the same to "Cece". He has another year to tear up the turf for Whittier, and he will give someone a run for conference honors.

LESTER CLINE, Quarterback

"Les" Cline played most of the season as regular quarter. He proved his ability as a brainy field general and as a dependable safety man. He was one of the toughest boys on the team and never seemed to get hurt by even the roughest teams. "Les" was always "up and at 'em" and will be greatly missed next year.

CAPTAIN KEITH WOOD, Halfback

"Ezry" captained the team this year and kept the spirit high even when the going was roughest. Keith was the heaviest man in the backfield, and more than one aspiring ball carrier changed his mind when he ran up against that big mass of "concentrated beef". Whenever a few yards were needed, he was usually called upon to push it over and he delivered the goods. He will be missed from the team next year and his place will be hard to fill.

LEONARD WALKER, Halfback

"Horsey" Walker was the fastest man on the team and gave a good account of himself as ball carrier. His specialty was running back punts and he excelled in the broken field. This was "Horsey's" third as a varsity back, and he will not be back next year, as he graduates.

JOHN ARRAMBIDE, Fullback

"Johnny" played his usual style of vicious football for the second season with the Cards. He packs the punch of the team and is an accurate punter, passer and consistent yard gainer. He made all-conference halfback this year and he still has another season to star for Whittier. "Let's go, Johnny."

RICHARD IMBODEN, Halfback

"Dick" won himself a place on the team through his consistent playing ability. It was he who carried out a rally in the South Pasadena game and plunged 20 yards for a touchdown. We look forward to a big year for this fighting Cardinal when September rolls around.

WALTER DAHLITZ, Guard

Walter was the heaviest man on the team and formed a stone wall with his 185 pounds of fight. He was always after his man on defense, and few and slick were the backs that got through him. On the offense, he was consistently opening up wide gaps for the ball carriers. Walter has another year for the Cards.

LOUIS ROBBINS, Guard

Louis Robbins was considered the fight'n'est lineman on the team and he lived up to his reputation. He was in every play every minute. This was his second season with the Card Varsity, and as he has another year, one of the guards will be well taken care of.

ED COON, Quarterback

"Ed" was a recruit from last year's C team. He was a heavy, shifty quarterback and delivered the goods whenever called upon. It was he that was responsible for the Whittier score in the South Pasadena game. Ed has another year on the varsity and should prove to be one of Whittier's main threats.

FRANK CLEMMONS, Tackle

"Droopy" showed plenty of fight both on offense and defense. He was always ready to hit them hard and proved to be a real asset to the team. "Droopy" has another year on the gridiron for Whittier High and will be hard to keep off the team.

CLARENCE EMRICK, Tackle

"Ahab" Emrick was one of the team's scrappiest members. Many opposing players who were hauled to the ground by this little demon decided it was useless to try anything through his part of the line. He will graduate this year and it will take a good man to fill his place.

HERBERT HADLEY, End

"Herb" was a real barrier on defense and got down on his share of the punts. He handled himself well in the heat of the battle, and was always giving his best for Whittier High. This was "Herb's" last season of football for the Cards and we wish him the best of luck.

HENRY KAMPERT, Center

Henry Kampert did his share for Whittier at center this year. He is a strong fellow and gives the opposing linemen plenty to fuss about. He was a hard man to reckon with; of this fact the opposing players were soon aware. He has another year on the Cardinal grid team and will be a real asset.

STANLEY WAGNER, Center

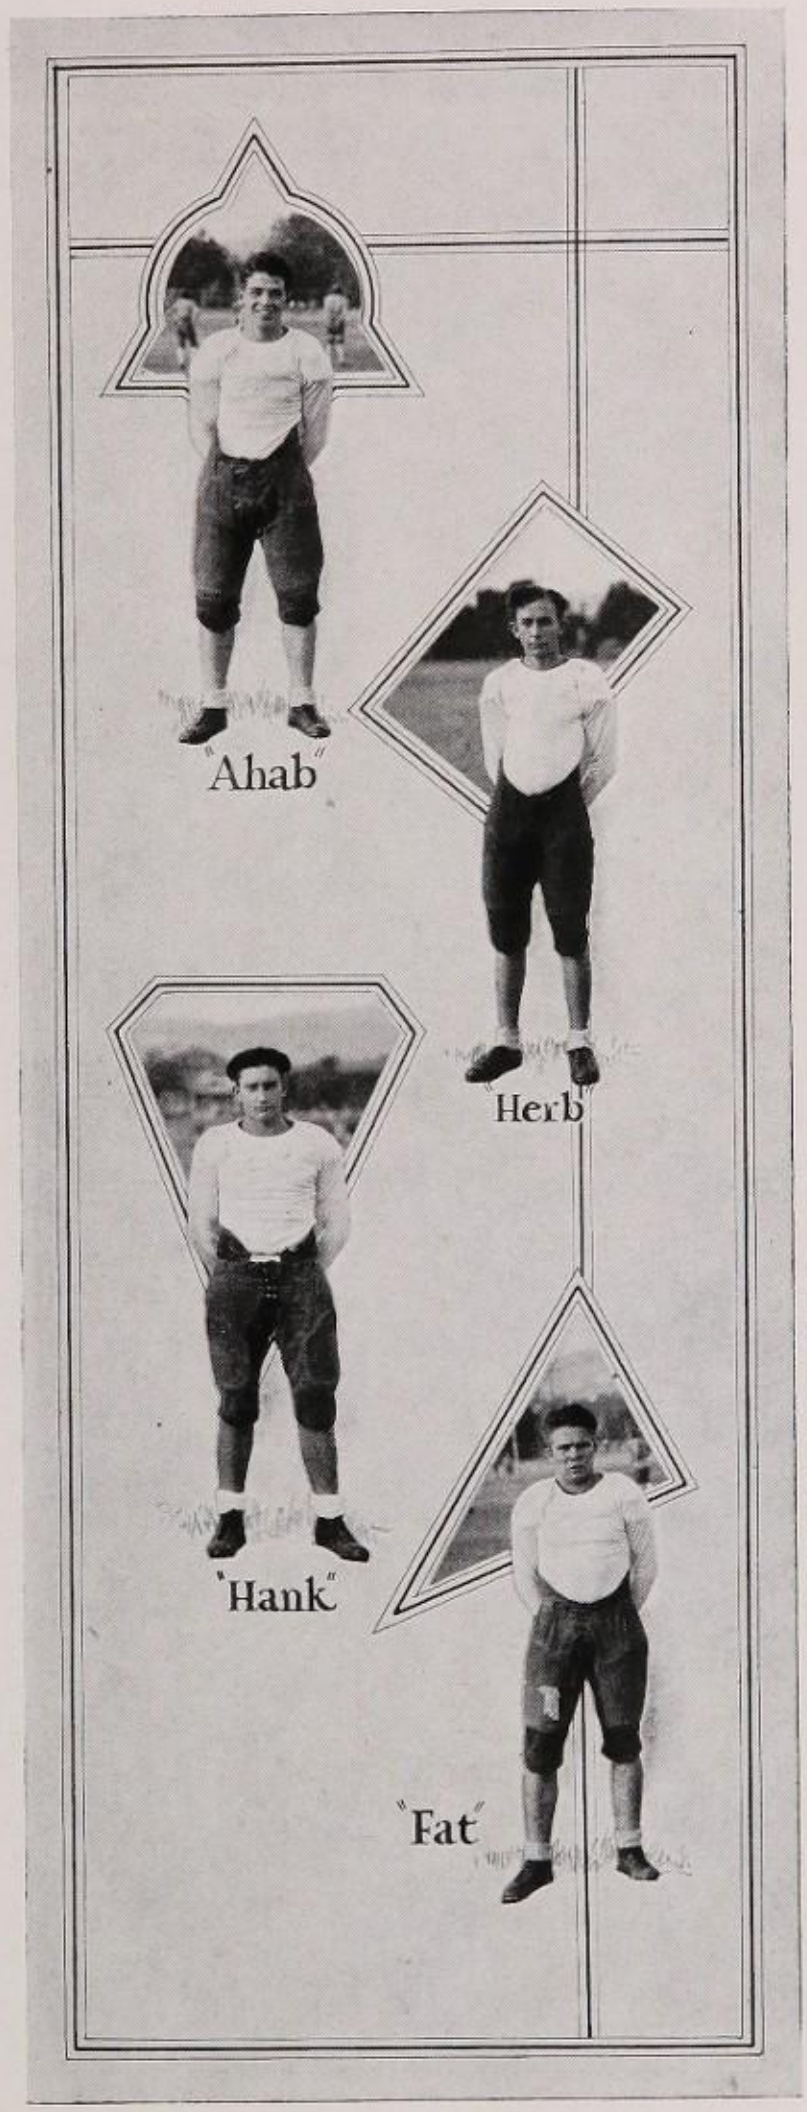
"Fat" Wagner made a name for himself at the center position this year, by his accurate passing and dependability. As Coach Douglas used the six man line on defense, "Fat" was called back to back up the line. "Fat" was as solid as a rock behind the line and never failed in the pinches. He has another year at the Cardinal institution.



Class B Football

THE CELEBRATED Whittier High 130's, under the able tutelage of Coach Don Cole, won their way to the Class B championship of the Foothill League. The thirties made a record of which Whittier High is proud. Through a powerful and tricky offense, and through the fighting stubbornness of a typical Whittier defense, they rang up a total of 163 points to their opponents' 6, in league competition.

In the first league game, Whittier sent the unscored-on Monrovia eleven home with a 26-6 defeat. The Cards then traveled to Hoover High of Glendale and left their calling card stamped with a 6-0 victory. South Pasadena next came over and fell before the Bee's sting to the tune of 20-0. The little Cards then cut huge slices out of the Burbank defense, and brought back the cake in the form of a 45-0 victory. Muir Tech tumbled and wept when the powerful Whittier offense banged through the line and skirted the ends at leisure to ring up a total of 52 points to Muir Tech.'s 0. In the last league game of the season, the Fullerton Thirties were defeated by the Card B's 14-0, thus giving them the Foothill League Championship by virtue of six wins and no defeats.

Those who received letters and silver footballs for their work this season are: Captain Ellis Triggs, Downey, Logue, Shoemaker, Croskrey, Hedges, Ott, Yauchzee, Tebbs, Hendershot, Parsons, Jones, Loomis, Sanders, Porter, Crawford, Sanford, Tarumato, Jopes, Woodward, Cline, and Garman, Richardson, and Robinson. Barney Cater was presented with a manager's letter for his work during the season.

Class C Football

COACH AL WHITCOMB inaugurated his sixth year as an athletic director at Whittier by taking over the mentorship of the Class C football team. The effect of Al's drill on fundamentals was shown by the fact that the fleaweights continually improved throughout the season. With small and inexperienced candidates, Al developed a fleaweight team that won four out of six league games in the Foothill League.

The little Cards journeyed to Monrovia for the first league game of the season. The strength of both teams was unknown. The Cards held up however, and defeated Monrovia 7-6. Whittier next entertained the little Tornadoes from Hoover High and went down to defeat at the hands of a superior team 31-0. South Pasadena was defeated by the fighting Cees 18-6 in the Tiger's own back yard. The Whittier fleaweights began to show signs of real football in this game and command the respect of the school. Burbank came over for a tussel with the little Cards and were turned homeward on the round end of a 28-0 score. The Cards next took a hard fought and well earned victory from Muir Tech by the score of 7-0. By defeating Fullerton, the Cees would have entered a tie for the championship. The Fullerton Indians, however, presented too strong an aggregation to be downed by the little Cards, and when the game was over, Fullerton was leading 20-6.

With this year's experience back of them, the Cees should go strong in the Bee division next year. Those who received letters for their work on the team this year are: Captain Ebert McKinney, Strotman, Ledgerwood, Valla, Blackmur, Killingsworth, Buss, Peas, Stanfield, Hanlin, Takakasha, Brians, Boyle, Gray, Reagan, Smith, Allison, Stewart, Brown and manager Taylor.

Varsity Basketball

PRE-SEASON prospects were more than bright for Coach Don Douglas and his varsity basketball team. With the return of four lettermen, it seemed that the Cardinal varsity would go a long way toward winning the Foothill League championship. We were not disappointed in the least with the team's showing, as they dropped but one league contest, and that to the conference champions. Due credit must be given to the student body for the fine support which they gave to the team. With this working cooperation between students and team, the Cardinal varsity turned in an exceptionally good record for the season, playing a total of 21 games and losing but 4.

WHITTIER vs. MONROVIA—With Perry gym overflowing with basketball enthusiasts, the two varsities took the floor with Whittier slightly favored to win. The Monrovians, in view of their football defeat at the hands of the Cards, were out for revenge, which they sincerely hoped to get by upsetting the Cards. However, during the course of the game Whittier proved superior and sent Monrovia home on the loser's side of a 32-17 score. Arrambide was high point man with 10 digits, while Captain Eddie Warner, Whittier's most versatile guard, made 7 points.

WHITTIER vs. HOOVER—When the Cardinal varsity traveled to Hoover High of Glendale, the team was somewhat worried as to what the result of the game would be, as Hoover was reported to have one of the strongest teams in the league. The game was very closely contested throughout, and when the whistle blew for half time, Whittier had but a two point lead. When the final tallies were counted up, it was found that Whittier had increased their lead to the narrow margin of four points, winning the game 31-27. Rusk made his appearance as a capable running mate for Capt. Warner at guard. Although the Cards led all during the game, they were threatened several times by the fighting Hooverites.

WHITTIER vs. SOUTH PASADENA—As neither team had been defeated in the opening of the third round of play it was apparent that the winner of this game would undoubtedly be a championship contender. Both teams, realizing this fought for dear life, and when the fourth quarter ended, the game was bound up in a 26-26 tie. This called for an extra period which was characterized by the frantic efforts of both teams to score. Finally, Johnnie Arrambide got his hands on the ball and tossed it through the hoop to give Whittier the game, 28-26.

WHITTIER vs. BURBANK—The Cards next traveled to Burbank and were rated as heavy favorites to win the contest. Burbank, however, staged a great rally in the first quarter to surprise the whole Whittier team. The Cards quickly recovered and settled down to executing the old system in fine fashion to swamp Burbank with the final score of 35-17. Captain Warner, Arrambide, and Garman stood out as high lights for Whittier.

WHITTIER vs. MUIR TECH—Whittier was again doped to win by a large margin when they entertained the basketballers from Muir Tech. A great crowd witnessed the tilt, as it was widely known that if the Cards won, they would go into a tie for the championship. The contest was easy going for the Cards, and never once was Muir Tech close enough to endanger the game. Whittier put the game on ice at the start of the second quarter, and when the final wistle blew, Muir Tech was humbled under the score of 47-23.

WHITTIER vs. FULLERTON—The Fullerton gym was packed to the utmost as the two league-leading teams took the floor. The dope was even and it was expected that a one or two point margin would decide the winner. The Cards could not get going, and when half time rolled around, the Indians were leading 17-14. The effect of staleness, probably due to the easy opposition offered the Cards during the previous two weeks, began to show in the second half, and the fighting Cards at the hands of the Foothill League Champions 36-21. Ralph Garman was high point man for Whittier and played one of the best games of his career.

With the return of seven lettermen, the Cards should go a long way toward the Southern California Championship next year. This year's lettermen include the following: Captain Eddie Warner, Arrambide, Garman, Chisler, Cline, Wood, Harris, Rusk, Imboden, Tubbs, Goots, and manager Ed Rogers.

JOHNNY ARRAMBIDE, Forward

This was Johnny's second year on the team and he was probably the most guarded man in the conference. Johnny was a good shot from all positions, and his baskets accounted for more than one Cardinal victory this season. He has another year of varsity basketball and will do his share toward the championship.

KEITH WOOD, Forward

"Ezry" did his share for the team this year and performed ably, although handicapped somewhat by a trick knee incurred in football. He gave a good account of himself while in the fray, and rung up his share of the points. Keith will be missed when basketball season rolls around next year.

LAWRENCE COOTS, Forward

"Nan" was a clever floor man and caused his opposing guards plenty of worry. He was always ready to jump into the fray, and had his guards running around in circles most of the time. "Nan" has another year on the varsity, and will be hard to keep off the team.

GEORGE CHISLER, Center

George was a forward last year on the B's, but because of his height, he was shifted to a varsity center this year. He stood up well under Don's system, and was always there when the breaks came. He has another year to shine on the Cardinal Varsity, and he will be invaluable to the team.

CLYDE TUBBS, Forward

"Pot" Tubbs was fighting every minute and was sure to speed up the game whenever called upon. "Pot's" specialty was dribbling through the opposition's defense and dropping the ball through the net. This was his second year on the team, and with another year to go for the Cards, he should show up strong.

CAPTAIN EDDIE WARNER, Guard

"Eddie" finished up his career of high school basketball in a blaze of glory. As a second year varsity man and captain of the team, he gave the opposing forwards plenty to worry about. Few and far between were the dribblers who could steal a setup from him.

RICHARD IMBODEN, Guard

"Dick" performed at guard and played a spectacular game during the whole season. When dope had it that a dangerous man would have to be reckoned with on an opposing team, the situation was solved by turning Dick on him. He has another year on the Cardinal Varsity and should be a strong figure on the team.

CECIL HARRIS, Guard

"Cece" played his first year as a varsity guard this year and was a valuable man on the team. He was always eager to be in the game, and gave a good account of himself. "Cece" was always on his man and caused the opposing forwards plenty of trouble. He will be back again on the Card Varsity next year.

RALPH GARMAN, Forward

Although still eligible for the B's, Ralph played his second year of varsity basketball this year. He was handicapped somewhat by a back injury the first of the season; nevertheless he was the most accurate basket shooter on the team. With another year to perform for the Cardinal institution, he should prove the class of the league.

LESTER CLINE, Center

"Les" played his first year of varsity basketball this year at the center position. He could always be counted on to carry the burden of the most tiring position of the team under Coach Douglas' system. He was an excellent floor man, and an accurate shot. He will be missed from the team next year.

PRINCE RUSK, Guard

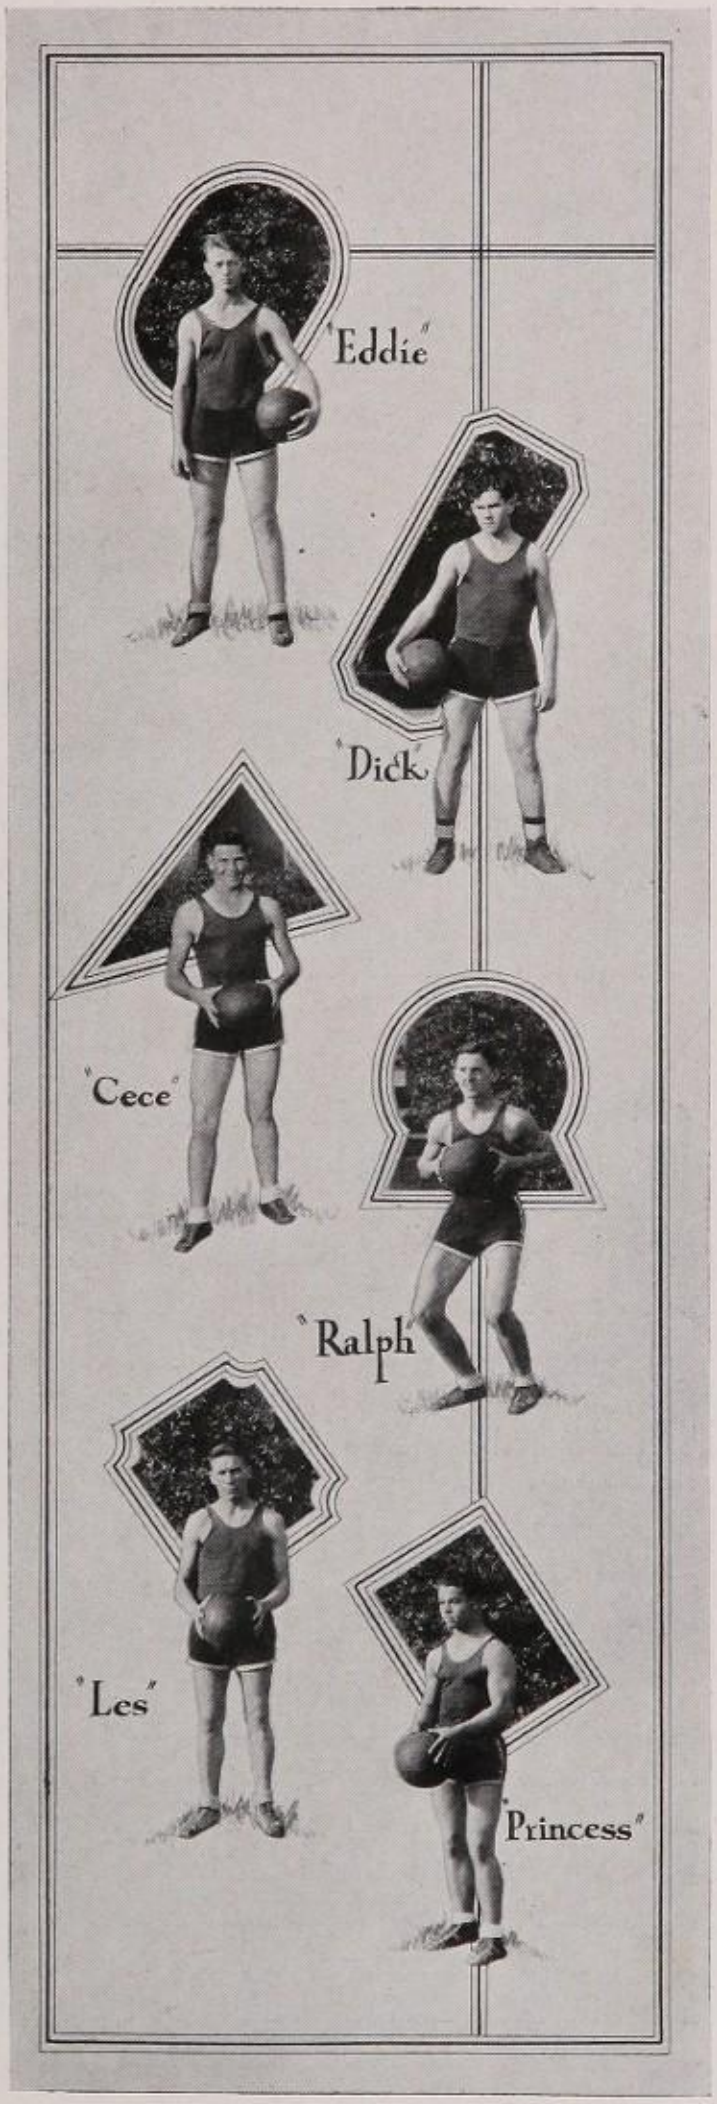
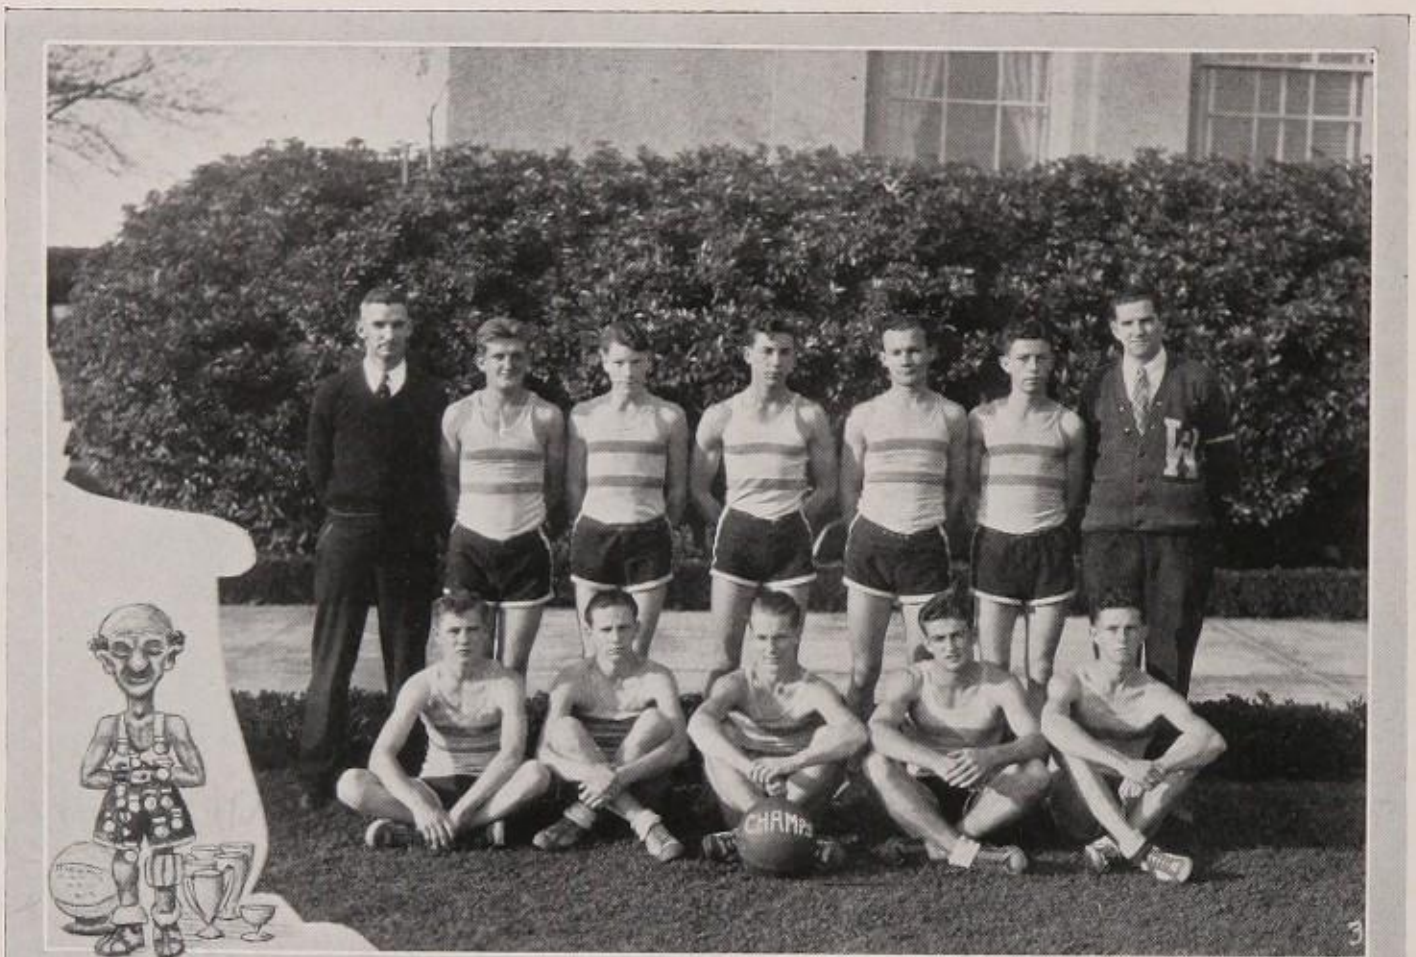
"Princess" Rusk, that mass of muscle guarding Whittier's goal, won a place for himself in the heart of the basketball fans from the start of the season. He packs plenty of fight, and keeps a watchful eye on his man. Prince made a capable running mate for Warner, and will be back at a general position next year.





Class B Basketball

COACH DON DOUGLAS had an exceptionally fine group of basketball players to work with when the call was sounded this season. Last year they took the Coast League championship in the C division, and this year they widened their field of glory by taking the Foothill League championship and finishing up with the Class B championship of Southern California.

For the first game of the season, the Bees traveled to Monrovia where they took the Foothillers into camp by the score of 33-12. In the next game the Hoover team was defeated by the fast Cardinal B team with the score of 41-18. The Cards then journed to South Pasadena where they downed the Tigers by the score of 36-23. Burbank fell before our great Cardinal Bees in the next league game to the tune of 46-11. Muir Tech, our only danger, according to dopesters, was completely upset by the Cards with the final score of 45-17. The Cards, then having a strangle hold on the championship, defeated Fullerton with the score of 41-13, thereby taking the Class B title of the Foothill League. In the post-season games, the Cardinal Bees then defeated Excelsior, the Orange County champions; Ventura, the Northern champions, and Woodrow Wilson, the Bay League champions, in quick succession, earning the right to meet San Diego for the Southern California title. In the Huntington Park gymnasium, the Cardinal B team proved too strong an aggregation for the San Diego Hilltoppers to overcome, and the Whittier 130's won by the score of 38-29, thus winning the Class B championship of Southern California.

Those who received letters and gold basketballs for their work this season were: Captain Bob Logue, Porter, DeForeest, Robinson, Richardson, Coon, and Hedges.

Class C Basketball

COACH AL WHITCOMB and his fighting Cees turned in another league championship for the second consecutive year when the fleaweights brought home a perfectly respectable season's record of six wins and no defeats.

The season's prospects were somewhat dim on the eve of the first league tilt, as the material was new and inexperienced. However, with a few weeks' practice, Al had pulled his team together to defeat Monrovia 20-19 on our own floor. The effect of more drill and hard work was shown when our tens journeyed to Hoover and returned with a 22-21 victory. When the time came for South Pasadena, the little Cards had hit their stride, and sent the Tigers home on the small end of a 22-4 score. The Cees next invaded Burbank and hit the basket for 26 points while Burbank was collecting 11. With the hope of a championship looming up in front of them, the Cards developed a spirit of "do or die" and won out over Muir Tech 22-20 in a thrilling extra- period contest.

It was this determined spirit along with a few words from "Al" that brought the boys out on the floor to win from Fullerton 21-16 after trailing all during the first half.

Inasmuch as there are no Southern California playoffs in the Class C division, the Whittier 110's had to content themselves with the championship of the Foothill League. Those who received letters along with bronze basketballs, given as emblems to championship teams, are: Captain Oley Killingsworth, Billy Moorehead, Ebert McKinney, John Smith, and Dale Gray.

INTEREST in the track and field division of our athletic program has been steadily improving during the last few years. This year, under the coaching of Fred Blosser, the team has surpassed all previous efforts, in that they captured third place in the Football League meet, and qualified eight men for the Southern California Semifinals. This record has never before been equalled in a Whittier track team.

The training season opened with more track aspirants than at any previous season. Much of this material, however, was comparatively green. After a few weeks of hard training, the boys began to shape up into a respectable looking track team. A change in the lineup was made by Coach Blosser this year, by which Keith Wood, last year's miler, was transferred to the 880 yard ranks on account of his superior weight for a long distance man. Lester Cline, last year's 880 yard man was shifted into the mile run. This along with the appearance of Harrison Brundage, from New Jersey, a 440 yard man, greatly strengthened the hopes of the Cardinal track team.

WHITTIER vs. MONROVIA—The Whittier Cards hopefully journeyed to Monrovia for their first league meet. Captain Lester Cline, Wood, Walker, Brundage and Triggs came through with first places for Whittier. An argument arose over the high jump in which two Monrovian men tied for first. It was claimed that they dove head first, which is contrary to the league ruling; however their places were counted. Horsey Walker was high point man for Whittier with 13 points while Cline and Wood collected 6 digits apiece. The meet was won by Monrovia by the score of 68-45.

WHITTIER vs. HOOVER—The next league meet for the Cards was with Hoover on Albertson field. Horsey Walker and Francis Perrin shared high point honors of the meet with 15¼ points each. Brundage, Cline, Mifflin, and Triggs were the other first place winners for Whittier. This meet was characterized by the numbers of seconds and thirds which the Cards gathered. Whittier won the meet by the score of 64 1-5 to 48 4-5.

WHITTIER vs. BURBANK—The Cardinal track team next entertained Burbank on Albertson field. First places for Whittier were won by Captain Cline, Wood, Walker, Arrambide, Mifflin, Shumacker and the relay team. The high point man of the meet were all Cardinals: Walker with 14½, Perrin with 11¼ and Wood with 10 points. The Cards won the meet by the score of 80 5-6 to 32 1-6.

CARDINAL & WHITE

WHITTIER vs. MUIR TECH—The Cards next traveled to Muir Tech, where they encountered the powerful Tech track team. Cline, Wood, Walker, Perrin, and Brundage were the only men able to collect first places for Whittier. However, Whittier came thru with enough seconds and thirds to bring the Cards score up to 47 while Muir Tech. was collecting 66 points and the meet along with high point honors.

WHITTIER vs. SOUTH PASADENA—The South Pasadena meet was postponed on account of rain and was run off at a later date. South Pasadena took high point honors along with the meet which was won by the Tigers with the score of 80½ to 32½. Cline, Brundage, Johnson, Triggs and the relay team gathered firsts for Whittier.

Captain Lester Cline and Harrison Brundage won their way to the Southern California finals. Lester Cline captured third place in the mile which qualified him for the state meet at Berkeley. He ran a great race in the state meet, but due to marked change in the climatic conditions, was unable to finish.

The track team of next year will be blest with the presence of nine returning lettermen, and we wish them the best of luck when the 1931 track season rolls round. Those receiving letters this year are: Captain Lester Cline, Wood, Walker, Harrison Brundage, Perrin, Johnson, Cooley, Triggs, Mifflin, Shumaker, Arrambide, Downey, Lane, Rich and Scaggs.

BASEBALLERS

Varsity Baseball

AMONG THE hopeful candidates who turned out for the favorite spring sport were the welcome members of last year's team, nine of whom were returning lettermen. The efficient coaching staff this year has been composed of Don Douglas, who takes care of the infield, and Don Cole, who manages the outfield. This coaching staff in combination with experienced baseballers has produced a team which has upheld the athletic standards of Whittier High.

WHITTIER vs. MONROVIA—In the first league game the Whittier Cardinals took a trimming from the Monrovia High baseball team on Albertson Field by the score of 6-0. The Cards outhit Monrovia but failed to bunch their hits for scores. Three pitchers saw service for Whittier. Harold Fowler started, but was relieved by Courtney in the second inning. John Arrambide was called to the mound in the middle of the fifth inning and held the visitors scoreless for the remaining four innings. This game brought out the fact that Arrambide was the most effective pitcher Whittier could offer.

WHITTIER vs. HOOVER—For the second league game the Cards journeyed to Hoover High of Glendale. The game was characterized by the excellent pitching of John Arrambide who allowed the Hooverites but two safe hits. Captain Horsey Walker starred at the plate for the Cards by making two hits in as many times at bat. The Cards were able to get but six hits off the Hoover pitcher who had a puzzling slow ball. The fielding of the Cardinal team was excellent, only one error being registered against them. During the course of the game the Cards gathered three runs to Hoover's nothing, thus winning the game.

WHITTIER vs. SOUTH PASADENA—In the next league game the Cardinal varsity entertained the South Pasadena Tigers on Albertson Field. The Cards started right in to win the game and scored seven runs in the first inning. Then that weird jinx got hold of them and they were unable to hit consistent enough for further scoring until a rally in the ninth inning garnered two more runs which were not enough to win the game. South Pasadena connected with the ball for fourteen safe hits and this coupled with six Whittier errors accounted for eleven runs while Whittier was collecting nine. Captain Walker led the hitting for the Cards with three hits out of five times at bat.

CARDINAL & WHITE

WHITTIER vs. BURBANK—The Cardinal baseball team next travelled to Burbank where they handed the Burbank High horsehiders a 9-1 defeat. By winning this game the Cardinals maintained an undefeated record in games played away from home. John Arrambide starred on the mound for Whittier by pitching a three hit game. The Cardinal batsmen had a good day at bunching their hits and nine out of ten safe bingles accounted were shared by Captain Walker, Coon and McGee, who gathered two hits apiece.

WHITTIER vs. MUIR—In the last home game of the season, the Cardinal baseball team entertained Muir Tech on Albertson Field, and defeated them by a score of 5-3. Johnny Arrambide, Cardinal moundsman, was the outstanding star of the game. He struck out twelve opposing batters and was in trouble only once throughout the entire nine innings. He also starred at the plate, driving two hits at critical moments. Whittier bunched her hits to score in the first and third innings and from then on the game was an even battle with Wihttier maintaining the upper hand.

At the time this goes to press the Cards still have Fullerton to play and we wish them luck in the last game of the year.

Next year's baseball prospects are very promising as the Cards will have nine returning lettermen, most of them two and three year veterans. Those who carried the burden on the team were: Captain Leonard Walker, Arrambide, Coon, Coots, Erreca, Cater, Tubbs, Imboden, Courtney, McGee, Triggs, Fowler, and Loomis and Manager George Beuhler. Among those who will get their chance next year are: Crawford, Ellis, Tarumoto, Oxford, and Jerizkowski.

Golf

ALTHOUGH golf has only been an organized sport in Whittier High School for two years, nevertheless, we have definitely proved our superiority over the other teams in the league. Under the able tutelage of Don Douglas, the championship was won for the second consecutive year.

The first match was with South Pasadena which Whittier won handily by a 5-0 score. Hoover and Burbank fell before our onslaught by the scores of 4-1 and 5-0 respectively. Muir Tech threatened next but was finally down 3-2. Going to Fullerton was little more than a matter of form as the championship was already won, Whittier took the match easily 5-0.

Paul Jopes held down first man and, although he had the task of filling Captain Stone's place of last year, he left little to be desired in his playing. Captain Cecil Harris, second man, was the steadiest man on the team and could always be counted on to take his match. Robert Brians, Ed Coon, and Seth Sanford completed the team. None of the players are graduating and it looks as if the Whittier golf team should win the championship again next year.

Tennis

THE WHITTIER tennis team for the first time seems destined to finish high in the league standings. Six lettermen returned from last year to form the nucleus of a powerful team.

The season started with a promising victory over the strong Woodrow Wilson team. Long Beach Poly, our next opponents, were defeated by the close score of 7 to 6. Anaheim was next and was easily vanquished.

The league season opened at Monrovia with Whittier winning 17 to 0. Our next two matches both ended in defeats. This was no disgrace as South Pasadena and Hoover, our victors, have a wealth of material and are the strongest in the league. At the time of going to press three matches were left to play with probable victories over all of them.

Ralph Garman for the third year played first singles and has only been defeated by McDavitt, league champion. Harold Demarest, Robert Crawford, and Bill Vaughan again played second, third, and fourth singles, respectively, and did their share of winning matches. Thurlo Ashton and Captain Woodward, veteran first doubles team of last year, again played their old position, greatly strengthened by last year's experience. Dick Ruether and Winston Crow played a second doubles for part of the season but on account of complications, Ruether was forced out and Charles Sanders took his position. Woodrow Foster acted as manager and substitute for the team.

GIRL'S SPORTS

Girls' Athletics

EVER SINCE Whittier Union High School was organized, girls' athletics has held an important position in the High School curriculum.

The girls have a large gymnasium connected with the boys' gym by a swimming pool. A new athletic field will soon be ready for outdoor sports. The girls participate in games of volleyball, speedball, basketball, baseball and swimming meets. Dancing of various kinds is taught. Programs are arranged and military marches and calisthenics are practiced. In specially equipped rooms, corrective classes are held for under weight or unhealthy girls. Lecture work is given once a week to three classes. Freshmen are exempt, but Sophomores take Hygiene; Juniors, First Aid, and Seniors, Home Nursing.

The personnel of the Girls' Athletics is headed by Miss Hope Romani, the school nurse, who also teaches first aid and home nursing. Miss Romani obtained her training at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston and from Columbia University. She received nursing experience in war work in France. Miss Grace Nelson, a graduate of Pomona College, came to us from Compton Union High School where she taught for two years. She has charge of sports, marching, and swimming. Miss Marjorie Jones taught in Long Beach after graduating from the University of California at Los Angeles. She teaches a class of advanced cloggers and sports. Mrs. Edith Tomlinson was trained in the University of Wisconsin. She taught both at North Western University and the University of South Dakota before she came here to take charge of dancing, hygiene, and corrective work.

Girls' Athletic Association

THE G. A. A. has enjoyed another successful year in furthering girls' athletics. After school sports have held a high place in the thoughts of all Whittier High girls. The point system, adopted two years ago, is still in use. In order to acquire an old English "W" a girl must earn seven hundred and fifty points by making first and second teams and coming out for sports.

After each sport season, a spread was given to award numerals and points, and at the end of the year the annual G. A. A. banquet was held in the cafeteria. At this banquet the letters were awarded.

The G. A. A. has been very active in sponsoring programs and entertainments for the student body and for other organizations. The officers of the G. A .A. are as follows:

President ..... Pauline Hudson
Vice President ..... Ethel Milner
Secretary ..... Isabelle Hill
Treasurer ..... Martha Roark
Volley Ball Manager ..... Frances Cogill

ONCE AGAIN tradition exerted itself and the Seniors reigned victorious in the first sport of the season—volleyball. This is the fourth successive year that the Seniors have held that coveted position. The Juniors ranked second, the Sophomores third and the lowly Frosh fourth.

Dorothy Burch, Audrey Claxton, Isabel Hill, Louise Hawley, Lois Ruble, Marion Prince, Jonnie Jean Harris, Eliza Gaskill.

Girls' Speedball

AFTER HARD fought battles the Juniors gained the ascendency and won first place in speedball. The Sophomores ranked second, and Freshmen third and the Seniors, because of a shortage of players, were fourth.

Girls' Baseball

BASEBALL, always a favorite sport in Whittier Union High School, held a great attraction for the girls this year. Many members from all four classes turned out for practice every evening.

An unusual turn of events presented itself at the close of the season. Three classes tied for the championship. The Juniors, the Sophomores, and the Freshmen all won two games and lost one. The Seniors, unfortunately, lost all their games to their opponents. The members of the teams were as follows:

Senior Team: Elizabeth Rees, manager; Mary Jane Glass, captain; Elsie Benbow, Ethel Milner, Hazel Bardwell, Evelyn Erb, Dorothy Hardison, Elizabeth Schmidt, Charlotte Collins, Eliza Gaskill, and Grace Forbes.

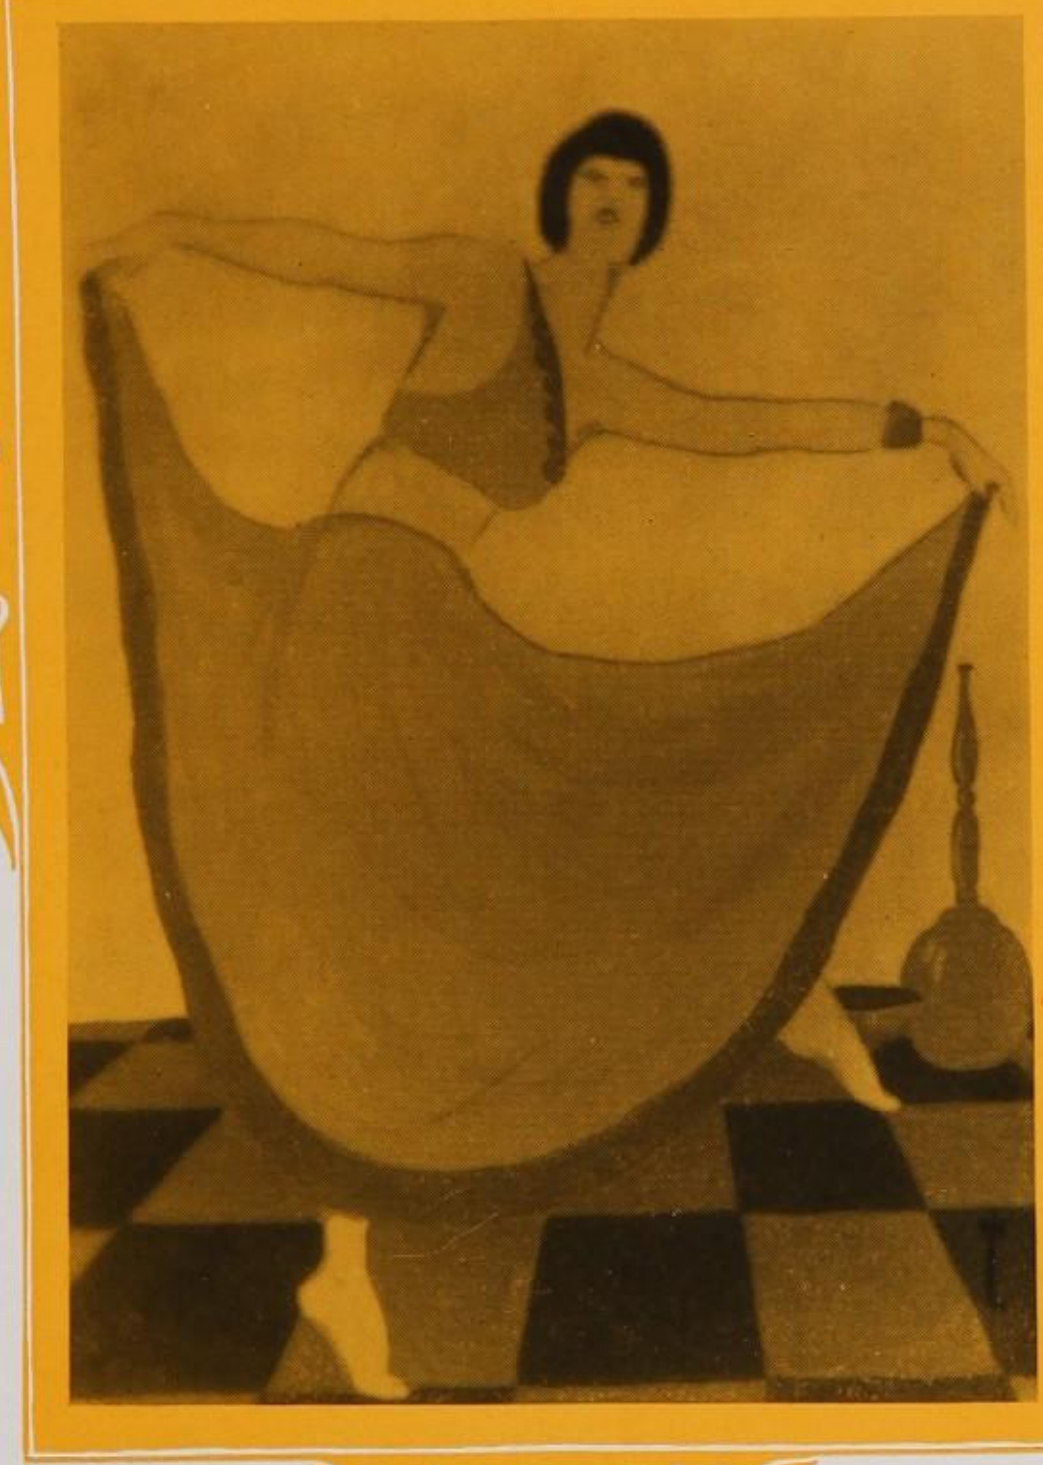
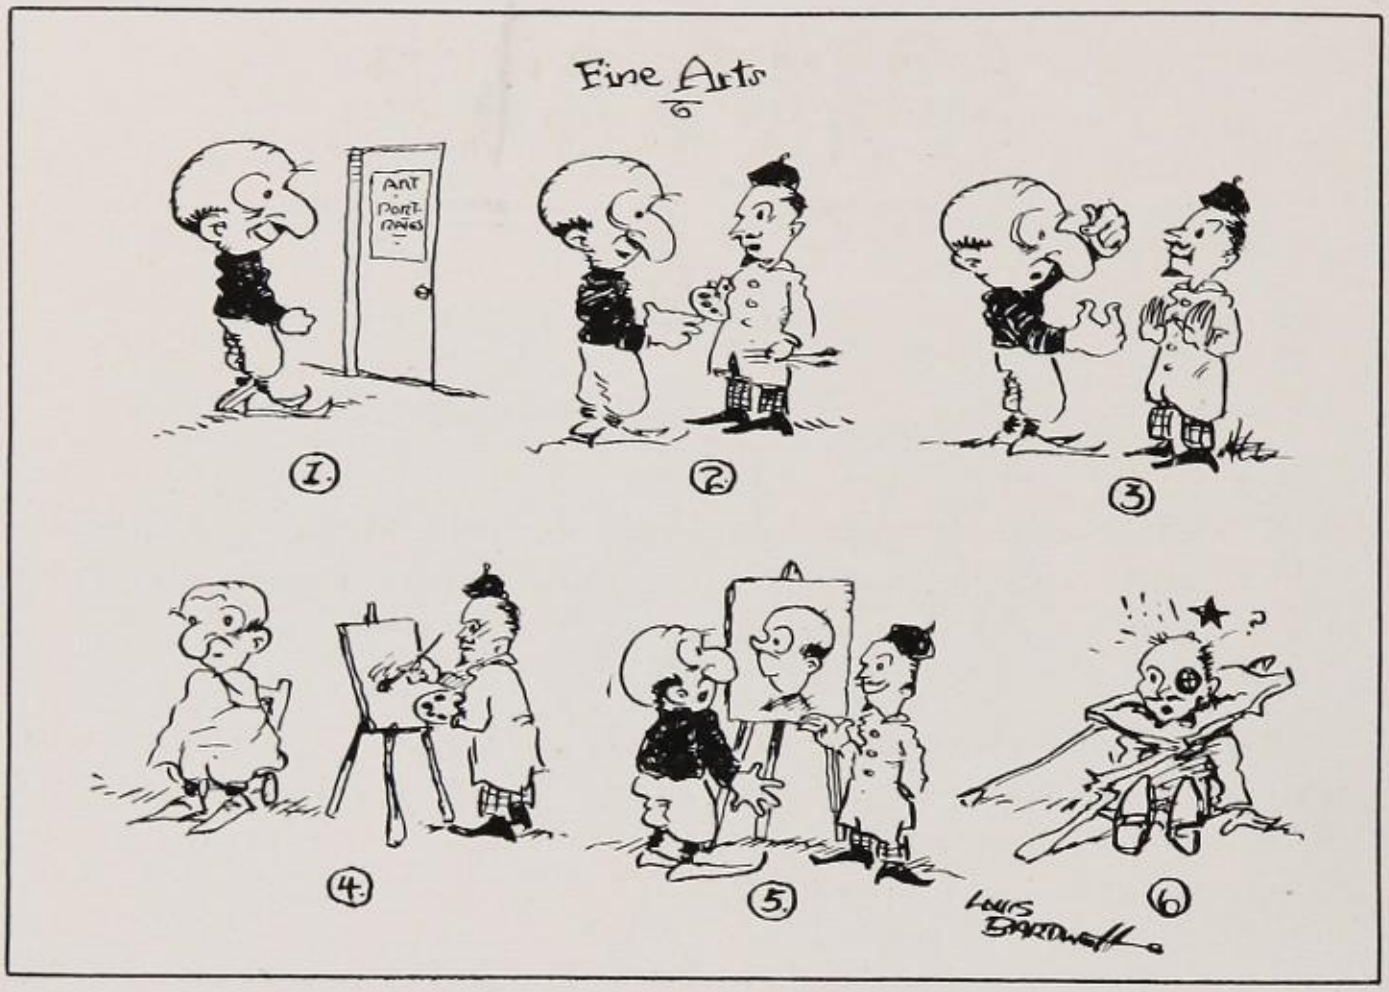
FINE ARTS

Abdullah says:

"It is better to have loved and lost—yea, much better."





Fine Arts

FINE ARTS! Of what inspirational value can the drama, music and oratory be! Their value in our educational institutions cannot be adequately expressed in words.

Music expresses our many moods, desires, and longings, inspiring us to better achievements, and aiding us in the development of our imagination.

Drama appeals both to the ear and eye. In it we see depicted the lives and customs of past and present, peoples and countries, and by portraying lives of great characters, it raises our ideals.

Oratory stimulates our reasoning powers and is a great incentive for our mental faculties, causing us to think. Principally to oratory are we indebted for the present freedom and liberties we now enjoy. Through the efforts of our orators this year are we not more patriotic and do we not respect our country more?

This year the orchestra has distinguished itself on the many occasions at which it has been called upon to serve and we feel deeply appreciative to Mr. Macdonald and his assistant, Miss Geraldine Macdonald for their excellent direction.

Mr. Petty is deserving of much credit for his work in the Glee Club.

We have met with wonderful success in the field of drama as was demonstrated by the many plays presented under the able direction of Miss Frankenfield.

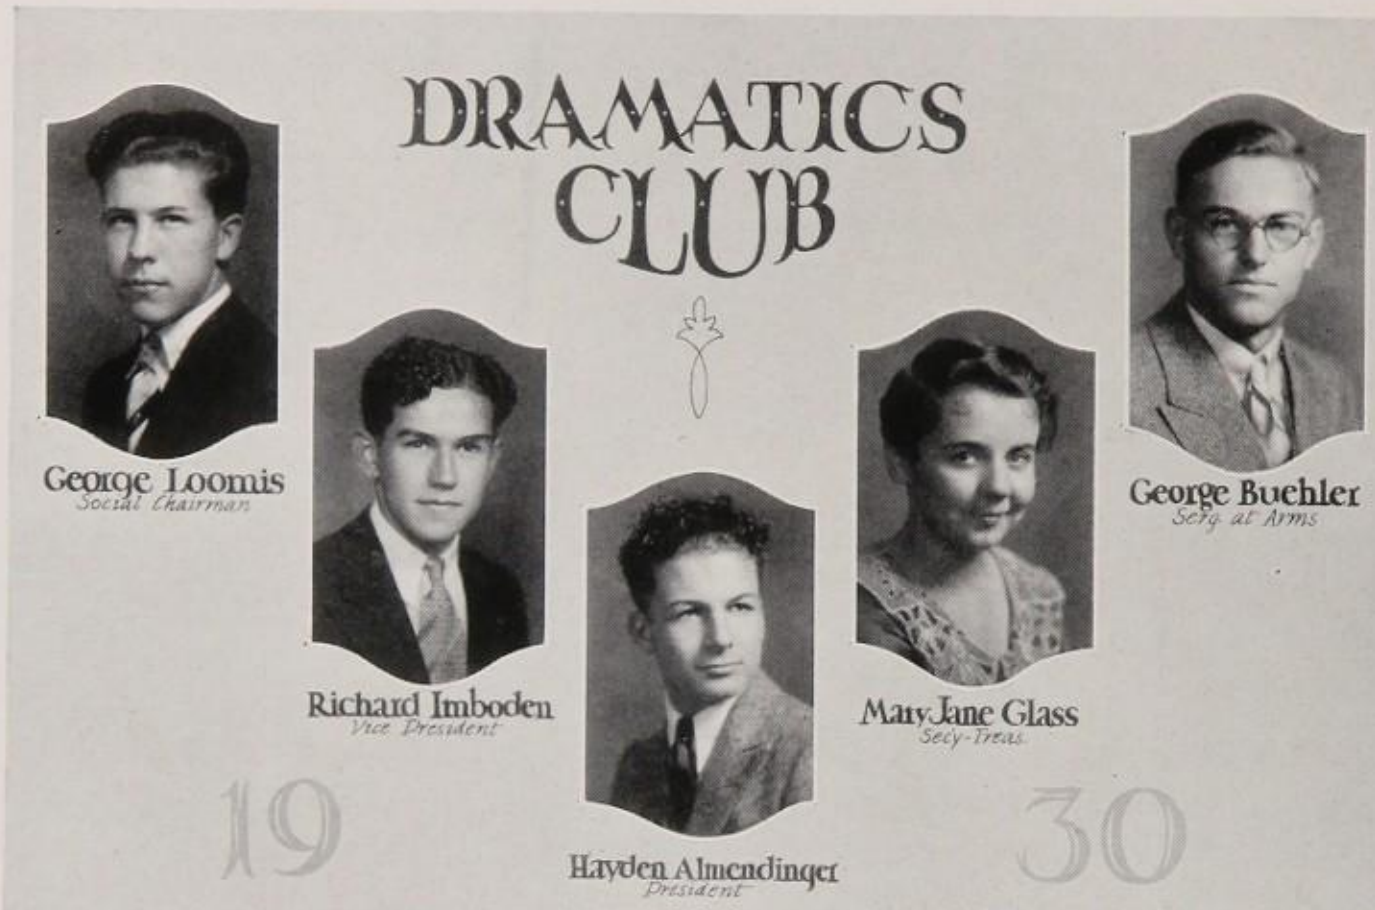
Oratory has made wonderful progress under the efficient supervision of Mrs. Vincent.

DRAMA

"TO ME IT seems as if when God conceived the world, that was Poetry; He formed it, and that was Sculpture; He colored it, and that was Painting; He peopled it with living beings and that was the grand, divine, eternal Drama."—Charlotte Cushman.

Everyone likes to "make believe." Small children play many "make believe" games, and these games become the raw material out of which drama develops. The rise of Drama is a very interesting development to trace. Drama was a prominent part of the Greek's life. It started from the song, dance, and sacrifice festivities in honor of the gods and goddesses. These festivities grew into picked choruses with one actor who depicted an episode in a god's life. Thus came in the trio Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides, each of whom contributed a useful thing to drama. Aeschylus introduced a second character, Sophocles introduced a third character and invented costumes, while Euripides humanized it and made way for the modern drama. In its turn Rome merely copied the Grecian style. Drama then died down and was started again in the Middle Ages, to be used in the church for Christmas and Easter festivities. These plays grew through the stages of Mystery, Miracle, and Morality, and were finally expelled from the church. Thus drama developed until Shakespeare's time, from which it rapidly decreased in value under the Puritans. Its awakening in the nineteenth century was due to the struggle for freedom and free thinking. The drama has developed until now it is a picture of everyday life, leaving idealism for realism.

The Dramatics Department of the Whittier Union High School has been very active this year. It has presented many very interesting plays. Each month the Dramatics Club has presented a series of clever and amusing plays. Interest in dramatics was further stimulated by the appearance of an English group of actors, the Ben Greet Players, who presented Hamlet. The credit for the success of the school plays is given to Miss Frankenfield, Mrs. Grassell, and Miss Miller. They have worked diligently in their department for the benefit of the whole school.



Dramatics Club

THE DRAMATIC CLUB has been one of the most successful organizations of the year, its purpose being to aid the pupil in the amateur study of dramatics. Contrary to the custom of former years, a small admission fee of ten cents was charged for each program. This enabled the Club to pay for the play royalties, costumes, and make-up, besides lending financial aid. Although the Club is not a new one, this year's success seemed better than any previous year's on account of the attentive and helpful attitude of its audiences. The first important event of the year was the Dramatic Club dance. Two of the outstanding plays were the Easter play, "I am Come," and the annual Shakespeare play, "The Taming of the Shrew." Too much credit cannot be given to the advisors, Miss Frankenfield, Mrs. Grassell, and Miss Miller who, by their patience and hard work plus the cooperation of the Vigilance Committee and the student body have done more to inspire the desired spirit in their audiences. They heartily believe and hope that the Dramatic Club will be continued next year and that the pupils and the audience enjoy its productions as much as they have in the past.

"Janice Meredith"

ON THE EVENING of November the nineteenth the first play of the year, "Janice Meredith," was presented. The proceeds of the play went toward the Girls' League, aiding them to further Christmas-cheer work.

"Janice Meredith," taken from the very popular book of the same name, carried the audience back to the turbulent and troublesome days of the Revolutionary War.

Through the use of old-fashioned costumes and old-fashioned settings, much charm and color was given to the play.

Under the careful direction of Miss Frankenfield, each member of the cast portrayed his part splendidly.

Cast of characters:

Lord Clowes, Hayden Almendinger; Squire Meredith, Francis Perrin; Lieutenant Mobray, Lyle Headon; Philemon Hennion, William Maggard; Jack Brereton, Virgil Blewett; Colonel Rahl, Frank Bows; Squire Hennion, Burton Maudlin; Lieutenant Piel, Harold Grismore; Sergeant Burger, William Smullin; Ned Buntling, Stephen Sepulveda; Trooper Rasscomb, Edward Lancaster; Batley, Houston Blankenship; Messenger, Thurlo Ashton; Orderly, Irving Yates; English Sergeant, Robert Cole; English Soldiers, George Loomis, Hartly Hodson, Donald Dozier, Boyd Alexander; Trooper Heinricks, Chester Mount; Janice Meredith, Doris Field; Mrs. Meredith, Crystal Campert; Tabith Drinkwater, Ruth Lily McGee; Sukey, Violet Varner.

"Taming of the Shrew"

ON MAY 16th, Whittier Union High School, in honor of William Shakespeare, presented as the annual Shakespearian play the comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew." The characters of this play were chosen by try-outs, thereby giving every student of dramatics a chance to have a part in the play. Unusual interest was taken in the try-outs this year, and as a result this play was pronounced the most successful Shakespearian play as yet presented by the school.

The plot centered around Katherine, a shrew, the eldest daughter of Baptista, a rich merchant of Padua. She was a lady of ungovernable spirit and fiery temper; consequently, her father was unable to give her away in marriage. Therefore he made a proposition in which he said that Bianca, the gentle sister of Katherine, could not be married until her elder sister had been.

A young man, Petruchio by name, was not discouraged by these reports of Katherine, and hearing that she was rich and handsome, resolved to marry her and tame her into a meek and manageable wife. The remainder of the plot revealed how Petruchio married and tamed Katherine, and how, in the end, Katherine once more became famous in Padua, not as Katherine, the shrew, but as Katherine, the most obedient and duteous wife in Padua.

Cast of characters: Petruchio, Hayden Almendinger; Katherine, Rose Knisely; Bianca, June Towne; Lucentio, Eldon Hunt; Hortensio, Bob Logue; The Widow, Violet Varner; Baptista, Edward Rogers; Biondello, Dorothy Harris; Gremio, Herbert Hadley; Grumio, June Albright; Tranio, Charles Bills.

"Radio Mystery"

ON THE EVENING of February 14, the second three-act play of the year, "The Radio Mystery," was presented by the Junior Class.

The play centered around the mysterious murder of Fay Martin, the leading lady, who was supposed to be shot by someone in the audience as the play was being presented. With the continual appearance of members of the cast coming from the audience, with the shooting of guns, and with the screaming of the players, mystery was added to mystery.

Cast: Fay Martin, Wren Rucker; Darrel, Charles Bills; Dolly Ingenne, Helen McClean; Effie, Frances Johnson; Dart, Stephen Sepulveda; Lambert, Vincent Youngquist.

Strangers: Dudley Steward, Donald Sirrs; Mary Hayward, Pauline Bolt; Walter Hayward, Roy Johnson.

"The Ivory Door"

Presented by the Senior Class

THE SENIOR PLAY! With what eager anticipation was this annual event awaited! This year "The Ivory Door" was the play given, the seventeenth of June chosen as the date for its presentation. The color note of the play was heightened through the use of costumes of a romantic period.

The play consisted of a Prologue, Play, and Epilogue.

In the Prologue the little Prince Percivale was pictured talking to his grandfather about the ivory door through which some of his ancestors had passed never to return; to look was death.

Then, in the play we saw Prince Percivale again, but now grown up and ruler of a kingdom. He was at this time preparing to get married. During this period there was a legend told amongst the people and believed by all, that King Percivale and the Princess whom he was to marry had met at one time, he believing her to be a peasant and the Princess believing the King to be a student.

The King was shown a picture of the Princess whom he was to marry which portrayed her as very beautiful but very proud and haughty looking. The King did not wish to marry her, and so he resolved to pass through the ivory door. He did so and found that it led into the woods outside the palace. In returning to the palace, he told his story of passing through the door, but no one believed him; they thought that he had been transformed by the devil. To prove his real identity the courtiers brought the Princess to identify him, as, according to the legend, they had met before. As this was only a legend, she did not know him.

Since the Princess did not wish to marry the King she decided to pass through the door. When she returned and told the same story as that of the King, both of them were thrown in prison. However, by the aid of servants they made their escape through the ivory door and passed out into the world together.

The Epilogue gave us a glimpse into the future and again a little Prince is seen talking to his grandfather—the legend of the "Ivory Door" being retold; so the story passed down through the ages.

MUSIC

"MUSIC may be termed the universal language of mankind by which human feelings are made equally intelligible to all."—Liszt.

In view of the fact that music is termed the universal language it is interesting to study its development from ancient times. Music was known among the Hebrew people and used quite generally, although they had no written form. The Psalms of the Bible are words to Hebrew songs, and are considered worthy even in these modern times. The lines of these songs were sung alternately by two choirs or the priest and a choir. The Greeks were the first to write music, but it was still very crude. Music as we know it began with the Christian Era. Guido, a young Italian monk, is called the "Father of music" because he worked out the musical syllables—Do, Re, Mi, Fa, Sol, La. The scale had already been written or he would not have been successful. This accomplishment was not written down. Modern music, however, began about 1600 and has developed rapidly since that time. Although vocal music started first, instrumental music advanced side by side with it. It has been said that "Music is the most social of the arts; not only because it is the most universally beloved but also because it affords the largest opportunities for cooperation."

This is certainly true in both the vocal and instrumental departments of this school. Musical work in the school coincides with modern ideas of education. It develops organization, team work, and cooperation. It produces school pride even among the pupils who do not play or sing. Mr. Petty, in the vocal department, and Mr. and Miss MacDonald, in the instrumental department, have been very successful in directing the music this year. They have not only the large Glee Club and Orchestra but many smaller combinations. In order to stimulate an interest in music in some of the smaller schools around Whittier both departments have been giving presentations at these places.

Band

THE BAND has once more completed a successful year under the efficient leadership of Mr. Macdonald with Miss Macdonald as his assistant. Besides playing at the South Pasadena football game, the Band played at all home games, at the Fullerton basketball game, and most of the home basketball games. The appearance of the Band was improved by the wearing of uniform sweaters of cardinal and white. The Band has cooperated with the Pep Committee by playing marches and school songs at the rallies for the more important games.

The Band has had about forty members this year with an average attendance at games of from twenty to twenty-five members. The variety of instruments in the Band has been greatly increased by the members of the orchestra who wished to add to their knowledge of music by learning to play a band instrument. This year the Band has played marches, selections, and overtures.

Next year let's get behind this organization and boost for a "bigger, and better Band!"

Advanced Orchestra

THE ADVANCED ORCHESTRA is a new organization this year. It was organized for the benefit of the more advanced students of instrumental music, who wished to investigate the secerts of orchestral works more thoroughly than the orchestra as a whole could do. All of the members enjoyed exploring the overtures, pieces by modern composers, and symphonies through which Mr. Macdonald took the group. Some of the work was almost too difficult, but, with the expert guidance which they had, they completed everything which they attempted. In spite of this difficulty, or perhaps because of it, everyone learned to know and to appreciate good orchestra music better than he ever had before.

The Advanced Orchestra made few public appearances this year, but it was not organized for that purpose. It is rather for the purpose of practice and study. Perhaps next year the students may have the privilege of listening to this combination.

Orchestra

THE ORCHESTRA has accomplished another year of profitable, enjoyable, and successful work, under the efficient direction of W. H. Macdonald and his capable assistant, Geraldine Macdonald. Overtures, symphonies, sacred and operatic numbers, marches and other lighter numbers have been studied, allowing the members to become familiar with the best in every class of orchestral music.

The orchestra has appeared at the Los Angeles County Teachers' Institute, the high school baccalaureate and graduation exercises, and with various organizations in the school and in Whittier. It has taken part in the annual operetta, and has carried out these programs in a highly commendable way.

Boys' Quintette

THE BOYS' QUINTETTE, a continuation of a similar instrumental group of last year, has entertained many times during the year for various organizations throughout the school and community.

A project of presenting a series of programs in a group of surrounding elementary schools was undertaken to give the pupils of these various schools a little more thorough and practical knowledge of music. Not only group selections, but also solos, duets, and trios were rendered to very the programs.

The instruments represented in the quintette are: An alto saxaphone, a baritone saxaphone, and a piano. The quintette has worked very harmoniously together, and many delightful achievements, musically, have resulted.

RICHARD FANTZ

Senior Girls' Sextette

FOUR YEARS ago a Girls' Instrumental Sextette was organized under the direction of Mr. Macdonald and his daughter, Miss Macdonald, for the purpose of serving the community and school.

This, their senior year, culminates four years of successful playing together. As freshmen and sophmores their outstanding engagements were for the Junior-Senior banquets, while during all four years they have willingly answered a great many calls to play for various P. T. A. meetings and community organizations and clubs, besides numerous school affairs. This year they have had the honor of playing for Teachers Institute, and for the Ben Greet performance. Also during the months of April and May, the girls undertook an educational project for the grammar schools. They prepared a program suitable for teaching music appreciation and presented it during those months before six different schools of outlying districts.

The members of the sextette have not only served the school and community, but have themselves received much benefit and pleasure from the experience in ensemble playing.

The organization is composed of Eddith Spencer and Dorothea Irwin, violinists; Wilma Jenkins, cellist; Margaret Binford, flutist; Beatrice Stanley, clarinetist; and Margaret Mitchell, pianist.

Girls' Vocal Sextette

THE SENIOR GIRLS' VOCAL SEXTETTE has had a very successful year, having been well liked wherever they entertained. One of the outstanding features of the sextette was that they sang both popular and classical numbers.

The sextette was organized under the direction of Mr. Petty, the vocal director. On account of late organization the girls did not make as many public appearances as they otherwise would have made. Some of the occasions for which they sang were: The Freshman-Senior Tea, Pep Committee program, Dramatic Club, Tea given by the senior girls in honor of their mothers and Senior Dress Up Day.

Much credit should be given to these girls, and to Mr. Petty, for their willingness to help whenever they could.

The members are:

First Sopranos.....HELEN MCCLEAN, VIRGINIA EGGLETON
Second Sopranos.....NINA NOEL, EDYTHE OVERMAN
Altos.....MADGE ROBERTS, MAXINE TROUTNER
Accompanist.....LOUISE COOK

Junior Girls' Sextette

THE JUNIOR GIRLS' SEXTETTE is an instrumental group organized for study and entertainment. This sextette made its debut at the Junior-Senior Banquet last year. The costumes of the girls on this occasion were of Spanish design, and the music of the evening was Spanish, in keeping with the Spanish motif of the banquet. The girls have always been willing and ready to fill in on short notice, adding to programs, in school and out. This year they have adopted a costume consisting of a cardinal red suspender skirt and a white blouse.

Much more is expected of the girls who next year will take the place of the Senior Girls' Sextette. The members of the sextette are: Helen Crooks and Catherine McAleese, violins; Vera Halloway, flute; Eleanor Tebbitts, clarinet; Nellie Bishop, cello; and Mary Helen Collier, piano.

Girls' Glee Club

THE PROGRAM planned this year for the club by the capable director, Mr. Petty, aroused much interest and enthusiasm among the girls.

Besides the usual concerts at the local churches a new experiment was tried. This was making tours to the elementary schools in the Whittier Union High School district. Two concerts were given at each of the following schools during the year: Little Lake, Rivera, Pico, South Whittier, Los Nietos and Mill. This was done to help the pupils of the grades to become familiar with different songs and their composers, as well as helping the club.

Another enjoyable event of the year was the Song Festival, held May twenty-second. A delightful gathering of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs of Montebello and Covina were guests at Whittier Union High. This festival was also new in the history of the club. Each club sang "The Green Cathedral" by Halm, and other songs of their own selection.

Boys' Glee Club

THE BOYS' GLEE CLUB has completed a very profitable year's work with the largest enrollment in several years. Much time has been given to the study of fundamentals in voice work. A marked improvement in the singing ability of the club has resulted.

The club gave splendid assistance in the operetta, "Mam'zelle Taps." Among the outstanding members of the cast were Roy Johnson as Colonel Piquet, Robert Cole as Alonzo, Herbert Hadley as Jean Piquet, Albert Woodward as Frederick, Ed Rogers as the Shakespearian tragedian, and Hayden Almendinger as Captain Gringo.

The Boys' Glee Club sang several numbers at the Glee Club Festival program April 25. The boys also helped in several entertainments given in the Elementary Schools during May. The Boys' Glee Club will join the Girls' Glee Club in furnishing the Commencement music.

"Mam'zelle Taps"

ON THE NIGHT of March the twenty-seventh, the curtain rose to present "Mam'zelle Taps," or "The Silver Bugle," an American-Anglo-French operetta by Arthur A. Penn. The operetta is given each year by the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs combined, under the capable direction of Mr. Petty.

Through the unique plot, clever dialogue, and splendid singing, the interest of the play was maintained to the very end.

The prologue was laid in France prior to America's entry into the World War. In this we were introduced to Marie, afterwards known as "Mam'zelle Taps," her father, Colonel Piquet; an old housekeeper, Aunt Josephine; and Captain Gringo, a sinister fellow who attempted to win Marie.

Act Two opened just after the American soldiers had landed in France. At this time we made the acquaintance of three young soldiers, a Frenchman, an Englishman, and an American, all of whom fell in love with Marie who had run away from home and had become a bugler in the French army. Captain Gringo discovered Marie here and forced his unwelcome attentions upon her. The soldiers attempted to expose him as a spy, agreeing that the one to do so successfully should win Marie. However, their plans fall through.

In Act Three Jean Piquet and Frederick, thinking Marie lost to Captain Gringo, fell in love with a nurse, Charlotte, and a Salvation Army worker, Lizzie, respectively. Meanwhile, Marie, with the help of Lewis Potter, exposed Captain Gringo as a spy and traitor. Alonzo, the American soldier, the only suitor left, successfully won the love of Marie.

The cast is as follows:

Colonel Piquet	ROY JOHNSON
Marie	DORIS FIELD
Jean Piquet	HERBERT HADLEY
Frederick	ALBERT WOODWARD
Alonzo	ROBERT COLE
Aunt Josephine	ELEANOR MITCHELL
Lizzie	CECILIA HARRIS
Charlotte	HARRIET PALMER

Lewis Potter	CHARLES SANDERS
Captain Gringo	HAYDEN ALMENDINGER

AMERICA'S PROGRESS—ITS DEPENDENCE UPON THE CONSTITUTION

By RICHARD NIXON

Progress has ever been the watchword of the nations. Consequently, since the extent of a nation's progress is usually judged by the increase of its wealth, territory and power, most of the great nations of today have spent centuries in the quest of these factors. In contrast to the usual slow growth of powers, we of America can truthfully say that ours is one of the world's greatest nations, a nation that abounds in wealth, territory and power. Yet a mere century and a half ago this nation had no existence. What have been the causes for such stupendous progress, the forces which have made possible our present day world-wide power?

Among the many theories advanced to explain the causes of America's progress the following are outstanding: First, that the people who settled in this country were of a superior type, and that they have made possible its stupendous progress; second, that the tremendous natural resources of the land were especially fitted for the development of a nation; and third, that this nation owes its present position to its government as set forth by that powerful instrument, the United States Constitution.

It is evident that each of these factors has been a great force in the nation's growth. However, let us compare our nation's progress with that of the neighboring countries to the south. How can we account for the fact that until recent years, the wealth, population and power of the whole South American Continent did not approach that of the United States? Surely we cannot say that the people who have settled in the southern countries are of an inferior type, for the Latin race, which constitutes the greater part of their population, once ruled the known world. Again we cannot place the blame for their comparatively little progress upon the lack of natural resources, for it is a well-known fact that the natural resources of the South American Continent are inestimable in extent. However, when we consider the factor of government we find a very different situation. For since the countries of the south have established governments similar to our own they too have begun to progress, and in recent years their wealth, population and power have been increasing at an amazing rate. . . . . The success of the Constitution can only be judged by the subsequent progress of the United States. From that tiny seaboard people of three million there has developed a continental nation of one hundred and twenty-five million with territorial claims throughout the world. The bankrupt government, burdened with debt and worthless money, has been replaced by one of the wealthiest governments on the globe. That nation whose government was once the world's laughing stock, and whose power was comparatively futile, now commands the respect of the world's greatest nations.

Such progress in the course of one hundred and forty-one years is truly remarkable, and the basic cause for that progress undoubtedly has been the Constitution. For how else can we account for the fact that the South American countries did not begin to progress rapidly until governments similar to our own were firmly established? What other explanation can be given for the comparative lack of development under the Articles of Confederation? What other instrument could have been as successful in providing a government for a people whose needs and views were so widely varied; a government which has won the whole-hearted support of the most influential men in the nation's history; a government for whose principles men have been willing to give their lives; a government which has been strengthened rather than weakened by attempted violations of its authority; a government which is just as applicable to the great America we know today as it was to that tiny nation for which it was framed.

Fellow citizens, we have seen that without question the Constitution has been the underlying force in America's progress. We know that our forefathers have championed this document to the extent of giving their lives—that we might enjoy its benefits. Yet in view of these facts, at the present time, a great wave of indifference to the Constitution's authority, disrespect of its law, and opposition to its basic principles threatens its very foundations. Shall we of the present generation allow this instrument to be cast into disrepute? Shall we be responsible for its downfall? If this nation wishes its progress to continue, this wave of indifference to the laws of the Constitution must cease. For as long as the Constitution is respected, its laws obeyed and its principles enforced, America will continue to progress, but if the time should ever come when America will consider this document too obsolete to cope with changed ideals of government, then the time will have arrived when the American people as an undivided nation must come back to normal and change their ideals to conform with those mighty principles set forth in our incomparable Constitution.

Constitutional Orators

THE CONSTITUTIONAL ORATORICAL CONTEST introduced a new feature this year, that of extemporaneous speaking. Each contestant was required to give an oration, not more than six minutes in length, and in the higher stages of the contest, was required to deliver later a four minute extemporaneous speech on a topic selected from two topics handed him at the close of his six minute speech.

In Whittier High School, over sixty pupils did some work toward the contest, and the local contest, held March 26, was participated in by the following six contestants: Richard Nixon, Albert Flory, William Fletcher, Viola West, Louise Wood, and Roland Harker. The winners in this contest were: First, Richard Nixon, who spoke on "American Progress, Its Dependence Upon the Constitution"; second, Roland Harker, whose subject was "The Supreme Court and the Constitution"; and third, Albert Flory, with an oration on "The Powers of the President."

The winners in the local contest were awarded a first prize of ten dollars, a second prize of five dollars, and a third prize of two dollars and fifty cents by the Whittier Kiwanis Club. In addition to these prizes, the Los Angeles Times presented a prize of twenty dollars to Richard Nixon and one of ten dollars to Roland Harker.

The winners of the first and second places in the local contest represented Whittier Union High School in the district contest held in Monrovia, April 8. In this contest, which was one of the closest ever held in the district, Richard Nixon was awarded second place.

SOCIETY

ON FRIDAY, October 11, one of the outstanding social events of the year was held in the auditorium. The Sophomore class entertained the Freshman class at the annual reception. Ray Davis, president of the Sophomores, welcomed the guests. Randell Terrell, Freshman class president, responded with words of appreciation.

A very interesting program followed:

Instrumental music	Frank Graves Glenn Tudor Charles Bills Howard Crabtree
Saxophone solo	Louise Stanfield
Whistling solo	Helen Crooks
Clog dance	Maxine Moore Mildred Frazier
Film	"Beverly of Graustark"

Refreshments were served in the girls' gymnasium. Louise Hawley was responsible for the success of the affair.

BIG SISTER-LITTLE SISTER TEA

The Senior girls entertained their little sisters in the girls' gymnasium on October 22 with a delightful tea. After a word of welcome by Carobel Daniels, Marian Collins presented the following program:

Piano solo	Margaret Mitchell
Vocal solo	Doris Field
Reading	Arla Gwin
Skit
Quintet	Edythe Overman, Maxine Troutner Virginia Eggleton, Nina Noel, Helen McClean

After the program the Seniors grew acquainted with their little sisters during a social hour. The Hallowe'en motif was carried out and doughnuts and cider were served.

RAZOR CLUB BANQUET

On May 13 at 6:30 in the Perry gymnasium the Razor Club Banquet was held. Throughout the dinner Albert Woodward's Orchestra played popular selections. After the banquet Clarence Emrick welcomed the guests and introduced Mr. Gates and representatives from the Lions Club and the Kiwanis Club, who gave short talks. After Albert Woodward's Orchestra played several numbers, Betty and Billy Rouzer presented a piano duet and two piano solos. Official pictures of war action in France was the concluding number on the program.

GIRLS' LEAGUE BIRTHDAY BANQUET

At the annual Girls' League Birthday Banquet, held in the Christian Church, on May 23, a unique and unusual idea was presented as the theme. Each table had a different type of doll as its centerpiece and decoration. There were baby dolls, old-fashioned dolls, hula dolls, boudoir dolls, and many other kinds of dolls. The "doll idea" was also carried out in the program. On the stage there was a doll shop with girls representing the different dolls. Each doll gave a stunt. The success of the banquet is due to Mrs. Carr, Louise Stanfield, and her committee.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

On June the fifth the Juniors entertained the Seniors with the customary Junior-Senior Banquet. The theme was a flower garden. This idea was attractively and cleverly carried out in the decorations, the speeches, and the program. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

The following program was given:

Toastmaster—Albert Flory, President of the Junior Class
Seed—Harley Jordan, Board of Trustees
Roots—Robert Logue, President of the Student Body
Stem—Clarence Emrick, President of the Razor Club
Cornet solo—Howard Crabtree

The Peace-Maker

Home life just now is a burden,
We're all getting set for a bout,
The rumble of battle is heard an'
There's gonna be war without doubt.

You'll laugh when I tell you the reason
Behind this belligerent tone;
Not one of the family agrees on
The place to locate the new phone.

Ma says it must be in the kitchen
To save countless steps thru' the day,
But pa, like most men, says "The place is the den;
Who's running this house anyway?"

Sis claims the best place is the parlor
Alongside the big morris chair,
While brother's emphatic—he's all for the attic,
He works at his hobby up there.

But peace reigns once more in our household,
Restored is our "esprit-de-corps,"
For the TELEPHONE man explained how we can

Is John playing with the ball?

John is reported to be playing with the ball.

Will John throw the ball?

According to the latest Associated Press dispatches, John will throw the ball to George.

Who in heck is George?

It is the opinion of many that George is a little boy between four and six years old.

How is George dressed?

An unidentified man is said to have asserted that George was last seen wearing a sweater supposed to have been brown. George is alleged to have denied this,

Will George catch the ball?

Unless there is a decided change in the direction the ball now seems to be taking, George will probably catch the ball.

What will George do with the ball, now that he has it?

It is feared by many that George may fail to return the ball to its proper owner. A probe is on foot which, it is hoped, may result in revealing George's suspected plans. A dragnet will quite likely be thrown about the field on which George is thought to be playing.

Will George be caught?

It is believed so.

"I GROW WEARY. Life here hath been naught but one enjoyment after another, but I have not the strength for such things I had when I was but a stripling. With joy and regret mixed in my heart I leave for the haunts of my fatherland. Fare thee well and may Allah grant that the rest of your days be as happy as those spent in this Great Institution of Learning!"
